Venezuela Crushes Revolt by Air Force

Chief of Army Says Rebellious Group Captured

Scattered Pockets Of Rebel Troops Are Being Mopped Up

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The government of President Marcos Perez Jimenez announced before dawn today that it had crushed an air force revolt in less than 24 hours.

The army chief of staff, Gen. Romulo Fernandez, in a broadcast said the rebellious garrison at Maracay, center of the revolt had been taken by government forces at 3:30 a.m.

Fernandez added, however, that scattered pockets of rebels were being mopped up.

The army chief repeated the claim by President Perez Jimenez in a broadcast Wednesday night that the rest of the country—the world's No. 2 oil producer—was completely calm.

Fernandez said that the rebel leaders fled by air. He reported that Aurelio Ferrero Tamay, commander of the Maracay garrison and governor of the state of Aragua, had been restored to his post along with his chief aide. Maracay is the capital of Aragua state.

Ferrero Tamay and other officials had been seized by rebel troops Wednesday, Fernandez said.

In Caracas itself, streetlights were turned on, ending the brown-out imposed by the government as a defense against rebel planes.

Air force units at Maracay launched a sudden rebellion against the government early New Year's Day, sending jet planes 50 miles east from Maracay to Caracas, the capital, before dawn.

Perez Jimenez said anti-aircraft fire hit one of the raiders and forced it to land at this skyscraper city's airport.

The short, pudgy Venezuelan general won another five-year term only last Dec. 15 in a plebiscite which gave the voters a chance to vote only yes or no. He had no opponent.

Caught Government In Revelry

The revolt caught the government during the early morning while New Year's Eve revelry was still going on. For hours the only countermeasures were the ack-ack fire and a steady stream of threats and cajolery by the government radio.

Perez Jimenez claimed continued control over Caracas and ordered a wartime blackout against air attacks. He also warned against rumors and kept a strict press censorship in force.

The Dutch press agency ANP said its correspondent in the off-shore Dutch West Indies quoted both rebel and government broadcasts as saying that rioting had broken out in Caracas but was put down quickly.

Presidential Palace Bombed

Diplomatic sources in Washington said the presidential palace had been bombed at least once and Caracas had been strafed during almost continuous rebel sorties.

Special Air Force Jet Assigned Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon will have a record-breaking Air Force jet transport available for his use on official trips.

The plane, a modified transport version of the Boeing KC125 jet tanker, is the same craft in which Air Force Gen. Curtis E. LeMay set new records in November on flights to and from Buenos Aires.

Nixon will use the four-engine plane, which travels 600 miles an hour, as a time saver on his flights to various parts of the country. He also may use it if he flies to Europe later this year as tentatively planned.

The vice president heretofore has done much of his flying by commercial airline, often on coach flights. There have been reports that the Secret Service contended the vice president needs greater protection.

First Baby of the New Year

Joseph Michael Steer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Steer Jr., of the Damascus-Valley Road, RD 2, Salem, arrived at City Hospital at 11:35 a.m. Wednesday to take the honors as the city's first baby of 1953.

Oblivious to his fame, he slept contentedly in the arms of his mother at the hospital when the News photographer took this picture. Joseph, who has an older sister, Dianna, who will be two in March, weighed in at exactly seven pounds, two ounces.

Second baby to arrive on New Year's day is a daughter, born to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shelton of 180 Vine Ave., at 6:49 p.m. in City Hospital.

Two baby girls arrived later in the evening at the Central Clinic. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCoy of 215 E. 4th St. arrived at 10:02 p.m., while the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Popa of 458 Aetna St. was born at 11:34 p.m.

Mrs. Popa is sharing a room with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Richard Harbert of Washington Ave., whose daughter was born at 6:44 a.m. Dec. 31, just missing out on the New Year's Day honors.

Cannon Urges Use of 'Common Sense'

Nation Cautioned On Spending Spree

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) of the House Appropriations Committee cautioned today against a government spending spree under the guise of national defense.

"Where the national defense is concerned, we cannot count the cost and we must provide all the money necessary," he said in an interview. "But that's no reason why we should get hysterical and spend vast sums of money that aren't necessary."

"A great many people are going to use national defense as a reason to bolster their requests for bigger appropriations," Cannon added. "To them, Sputnik was a godsend. The pork barrel fellow says we still must have our pork."

Refers To Annual Bills

The pork barrel reference was to annual bills providing for local projects such as river and harbor and flood control programs, on which many members base their election campaigns.

Some Congress members already are contending that such projects add more than their cost to the nation's wealth, and must not be neglected.

Because of the obvious need for more money for national defense, particularly in the missile field, Cannon said, "We must be all the more economical with the things we don't have to have."

Cannon said he expected demands to be made for continued

Blood Donors Top E. Palestine Quota

EAST PALESTINE — One hundred and thirty-one pints of blood were donated Tuesday at the Presbyterian Church during the second semi-annual visit of the Cleveland Red Cross Bloodmobile.

This was six pints over the quota of 125 pints; and it was also reported as the largest amount of blood donations received to date.

The visit of the Cleveland Bloodmobile was sponsored by the Registered Nurses Association and the local Red Cross.

Rev. Chalmers Goshorn, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, was the general chairman and the recruitment chairman was Robert Hunston. Negley, New Waterford and Unity also participated in this blood donation.

The next visit of the Bloodmobile will be June 2.

Ike Working on Budget For '58, Annual Message

To Return To Farm To Talk With Cabinet, Civil Rights Group

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower returns to the White House today to complete his work on the new federal budget and on his State of the Union message.

The President intends to return to Gettysburg for the weekend after meetings tomorrow with the Cabinet and with the newly constituted Civil Rights Commission.

Eisenhower virtually completed his budget work earlier this week at his farm home, but the White House said decisions still remain to be made on a few military items. There were indications these concerned the growing rocket and missile program.

The President put in some work Wednesday on the State of the Union message, which will be mainly a review of the nation's defense posture with recommendations for improving it. Details of his program for home front legislation will come in his Jan. 13 budget message.

While the White House has declined to announce the anticipated budget total, it has been made plain the figure will be higher—perhaps two billion dollars higher—than this year's 72 billion dollars.

The final budget figures will come before the Cabinet Friday.

Eisenhower also will participate Friday in the organization meeting of the six-member Civil Rights Commission headed by Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University.

Couple Plans 'Family' of 40 Youngsters

TRI CITY, Ky. (AP) — The "second family" of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Murdock, started when they took in three dependent children, has grown to dormitory proportions. In just three years, the number has jumped to 16-12 boys and 4 girls. And as soon as the family moves to its new home, there'll be room for 24 more.

The new home—a 14-bedroom dormitory-like structure two miles from this southwestern Kentucky community—is now under construction and due to be ready for occupancy next summer. It will have facilities for 40 children.

The Murdock, who always wanted to care for unfortunate or homeless children, decided to carry out their plans after their own son and daughter had grown up married and established homes of their own.

But they never dreamed their idea would blossom to such proportions. It also has a name—the Paradise Friendly Home—and a sponsor—the Bell City Church of Christ, of which Murdock is superintendent.

The children, who range in age from 3 to 16, attend school at Sedalia, where Mrs. Murdock teaches, and Murdock, a farmer teaches the older boys farming.

Although the home is now under supervision of the State Welfare Department, no effort is made to place the children for adoption. The Murdock do all they can to provide as normal a home and family life as possible.

Cold Weather Strikes Eastern Half of Nation

By The Associated Press

Cold weather spread across most of the Eastern half of the nation today, with the icy air extending deep into Dixie.

Skies were clear in most of the cold belt although a snowstorm hit the Cleveland area, dumping to 8 inches of snow in some places. Squalls were forecast near the Lakes region of Pennsylvania and New York, with snow falls from 5 to 12 inches in prospect.

The Arctic air which has gripped the Midwest for several days extended into the Atlantic Seaboard. Temperatures in the Ohio Valley and from the Appalachians to the East Coast were from 10 to 20

Senate Group Studies Plans Affecting Chiefs of Staff

Red Boss Urges Talks With U.S.

Chief Renews Efforts To Meet With Nation

MOSCOW (AP) Nikita Khrushchev has called again for U.S.-Russian talks to settle the world's problems.

In a New Year's toast to President Eisenhower, the Communist party boss renewed Soviet efforts to negotiate with top U. S. officials and without America's allies at the table.

Khrushchev told foreign diplomats at the big Kremlin New Year's banquet: "If the Soviet Union and the United States can get together and can reach agreement, most of the world's problems would be solved."

The United States has rebuffed earlier proposals for such talks, preferring to include at least some of its allies in top-level conversations with Russia.

The party boss, Premier Nikolai Bulganin and President Klementi Voroshilov had earlier dispatched New Year's greetings to the world's chiefs of staff and government heads. The apparently similar messages called for peaceful co-existence and an end to what one note called "the fear which the people in all lands feel for the future."

The message to President Eisenhower asked him to "accept personally and to transmit to the people of the United States of America best wishes" from the three leaders and the Russian people.

Eisenhower replied in a similar tone: "I earnestly trust the new year will bring a firmer and better understanding between the citizens of the Soviet Union, the American people and those of other nations."

"You may be assured that the government of the United States will extend every effort to that end."

Proposals Would Shear U. S. Military Heads Of Commands

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Preparedness subcommittee has under consideration a series of proposals that could lead to legislation shearing the Joint Chiefs of Staff of their military commands.

The subcommittee headed by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, has heard contradictory testimony from military leaders and scientists about the amount of service rivalry that still exists under supposed unification of the armed forces.

Most subcommittee members now are convinced there has been so much confusion and bickering among Army, Navy and Air Force leaders in the Pentagon that the nation's missile and satellite programs have been seriously handicapped.

While there is no unanimous opinion, the prevailing impression among subcommittee members seems to be that it might be best to start at the top of the military structure in any recommended shakeup. This could take the form of relieving the Joint Chiefs of command duties.

The Joint Chiefs, consisting of the heads of the three services, have the dual role of over-all military planning and of operating the individual services. This has led to some suggestions that their loyalty to their individual services has interfered with their decisions on over-all military plans, although Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs, has denied this in public testimony.

In exploring the situation, the subcommittee's staff has gone back as far as the 1949 Hoover Commission report. At that time, a minority of which former Secretary of State Dean Acheson was a member recommended that Congress create a single chief of staff over the Joint Chiefs. The present chairman of the Joint Chiefs has only an advisory role.

A 1953 report of the Rockefeller Committee on Defense Reorganization recommended that the existing system "be revised to remove the command function from the Joint Chiefs of Staff, in order to enable them to work more effectively."

Road Backers To Meet Friday

Riverlake Group To Meet At Golf Club

The Lake Erie to Ohio River Highway Association, which was formed Dec. 16 in Youngstown to promote construction of the riverlake road, will hold its second organizational meeting at the Salem Golf Club at noon Friday.

A total of 21 representatives from the Chambers of Commerce in Salem, Warren, Youngstown, Niles, East Liverpool, Ashtabula and Conneaut are expected to attend the luncheon meeting.

The election of officers and the establishment of the association by-laws will highlight the meeting.

The two prime purposes of the association are to promote interest in the construction of a good highway from Lake Erie to the Ohio River and to push development of eastern Ohio highways and other roads that would be beneficial to the highway program in this area.

Paul Mossman, executive director of the Youngstown Chamber of Commerce who was appointed as temporary chairman of the group, will preside at the meeting.

The invitation to meet in Salem was extended to the association by Castle Smith, executive secretary of the Salem Chamber of Commerce.

Annexation Plan Now Up to Council

COLUMBIANA COUNTY Commissioners have accepted a petition from two Salem men for the annexation of 66 acres of proposed building lots in the Southeast Blvd. area.

The annexation petition will now be presented to the City Council for consideration.

Vince Bober of 1955 E. Pershing St. and Joseph Fisher, of 2014 Southeast Blvd. presented the petition to the commissioners early in November.

The men plan to re-sell the acreage in the form of 175 building lots. Fisher said, "The streets and utility facilities at the building lots will be supplied at no cost to the city."

The annexation will take effect after approval of City Council.

Holiday Mishaps Claim 146 Lives Across Nation

National Council's Estimate Was 130 For New Year Period

By The Associated Press

The nation's traffic deaths for a one-day New Year holiday period soared to a record high of 146 today, easily surpassing the figure predicted by safety officials.

The National Safety Council had set 130 for the 30-hour period from 6 p.m. (local time) Tuesday to midnight Wednesday.

Final figures were incomplete. Returns still were trickling in.

The Christmas traffic death toll was 225 as compared with 180 predicted by the Council.

The council termed the New Year traffic toll "disconcertingly high," and as the toll mounted, it urged motorists to drive with extra care.

The previous high for a one-day New Year celebration since World War II was 110 in the 1947-48 transition. While the low mark for a 30-hour New Year holiday in the same period was 93 in the 1946-47 transition. The all-time high in traffic deaths for any one-day holiday since World War II was 253 in Christmas 1946.

Icy and snowy streets and highways in much of the Midwest and rain in New England were considered added hazards to the heavy holiday travel.

The New Year traffic toll was far in excess of the total reported in an Associated Press survey in a nonholiday test period last month. In the 30 hours from 6 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 30, to midnight Wednesday, Dec. 31, 84 persons were killed in highway accidents. First deaths numbered 15 and 27 persons were killed in miscellaneous accidents for an overall total of 126.

Driver Dies In Two-Car Crash

Fatality Scene Is Rt. 7 Near Boardman

A New Jersey man was killed and four other persons were injured in a two-car crash on Rt. 7, one and one-half miles south of Boardman at 9:55 on New Year's Eve.

Dead on arrival at Youngstown Southside Hospital was the driver, Francis McWethy, 48, of Roselle, N.J. He died of a fractured skull.

The four injured persons are: Roy McWethy, 49, of Linden, N. J., brother of the driver, fractured ribs and multiple bruises and abrasions.

Opal McWethy, 38, of Linden, Roy's wife, multiple bruises and abrasions.

Patricia McWethy, 41, wife of the driver, multiple bruises and abrasions.

Homer Spickler, 22, of North Lima, driver of the second car, multiple lacerations of the face.

All the injured persons are reported in good condition at the Youngstown Southside Hospital.

The accident occurred when the McWethy car, which was traveling north, attempted to make a U-turn in the middle of the highway, and was struck in the side by Spickler's auto which was also travelling north, the State Highway Patrol reported.

E. Palestine Council To Fill One Vacancy

EAST PALESTINE — City Council will reorganize Monday. Applications for the vacancy of councilmen-at-large will be accepted until 7:30 p.m. Monday just before Council convenes. Already five written applications have been received.

Selection of the new member will be made as soon as the new council is seated and sworn in by Solicitor Jack H. Cohen.

This vacancy, one of three at-large posts, was made when William Mayhew, Democrat, moved to New Mexico shortly after he was elected in November.

Kiwanis Club Installs New Officers For Year of 1958

COLUMBIANA — New officers for 1958 were installed at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club at Beck's Monday evening by John Valuska of Mingo Junction, new lieutenant governor of the 19th Ohio division of Kiwanis. The new officers are:

K. T. Gormley, president; Gayl Gloss, vice president and Lloyd Crawford, secretary-treasurer. Installed as directors were Willard Ferrall as immediate past president, Amos Campbell, Howard Evans, Dr. C. W. Dewalt, Robert Powers, William Arn, Everett Warwick and Blaine Thompson.

Gloss, as program chairman, introduced as the speaker Rev. C. P. Mitchell of First English Lutheran Church of Mansfield who gave a humorous talk, "Oh, Women."

Awards for perfect attendance during the year went to Gormley, Ferrall, Crawford, Gloss, Dewalt, Barrow, Ed Funkhouser, George Huk, Robert Powers, John Backstrom, Mark Klingensmith and Bernard Freeman.

Group singing was led by Barrow, accompanied by Mrs. Barrow at the piano.

Valuska was accompanied by his wife and son, James, and Rev. Mitchell and Mrs. Mitchell. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gormley, Mrs. Rae Brittain and Mrs. Florence Campbell.

CARL LEYTO of Cleveland, representing the public relations department of the Standard Oil Co. showed a film at the meeting of the Rotary Club at Valley Golf Monday evening emphasizing the need of water conservation in Ohio to meet the enormous and growing industrial demands.

He said that by establishing ponds and other means of conservation, the farming community is making a contribution, but hardly one-fourth of what is needed. Terrace farming to retain water in the soil is also making its contribution, he said. George Seederly was program chairman.

T. V. Utterback, former member of the Columbiana club, was a visitor, along with four other visiting Rotarians, Charles McNally, Lisbon, and Ruard Pennema, Harvey Thayer and Paul Lowry, Salem.

Next Monday evening, L. A. Way, program chairman, will present a discussion of the problems of annexing school and village territory.

SALEM WOMEN'S Bowling association will meet at 2 p.m. Sunday in the American Legion Home in Columbiana to make plans for the annual city tournament to be held this year at Randall's lanes between East Palestine and Unity March 1, 2, 8, 9, 15 and 16.

James L. Case of Columbiana has been summoned to report on Tuesday for grand and petit jury duty in common pleas court at Lisbon.

Millard Sayers of the Air Corps who has been stationed at Denver, is spending a short leave at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sayers before reporting to California next Monday for transfer to Okinawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Evan Basinger, who have been making an extended visit here left Wednesday on their return home in Monrovia, Cal. by way of Florida. Basinger is a former Columbiana florist.

The less serious kind of epilepsy is called petit mal, in which there is a brief loss of consciousness without convulsions. The severe type is called grand mal, in which there is a mental "black-out" associated with typical convulsions.

Before an attack there is usually a peculiar sensation in some part of the body. This is known as an aura. The sensation is hard to describe, but an "uneasy feeling" in the stomach area is one of the most common occurrences.

Those who have epileptic attacks often learn to recognize this aura and to know that an attack is on the way.

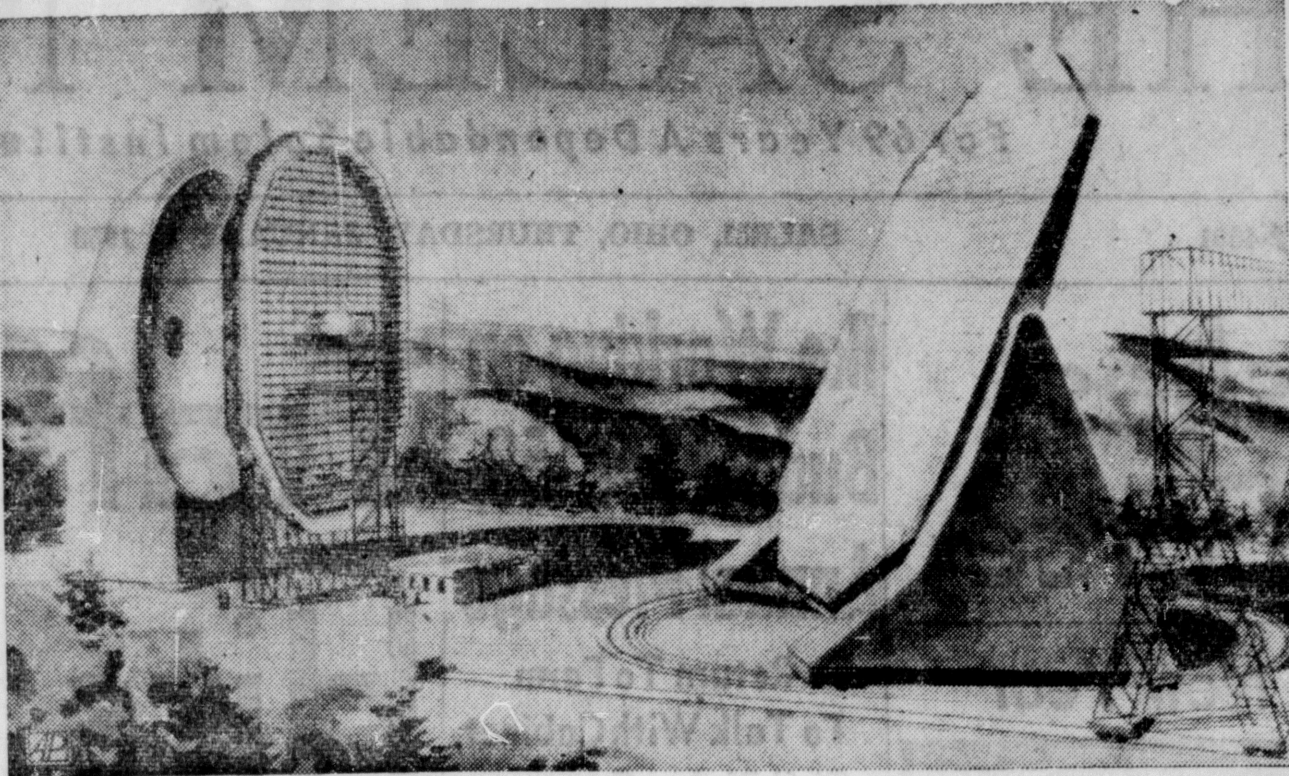

At the beginning of a major attack, the patient may give a loud scream or yell, which is called an epileptic cry. When an attack first begins the head is usually drawn back or to one side, the jaws are fixed, the hands clenched and the legs extended straight out.

This is quickly followed by muscular contractions, noisy breathing and a brick-red colored face. During all this period from the epileptic cry on, the patient is unconscious.

After the attack, the patient recovers consciousness without any recollection of what has happened.

Guarding Your Health

By DR. EDWIN P. JORDAN
Epilepsy, Children's Fits

Epilepsy is the most common cause of "fits" in children, but some have convulsions which are not really epilepsy. Convulsions of this sort are likely to occur in highly nervous children and usually wear off as they grow older.

It is important however, to find out promptly what kinds of convulsions are involved.

A great aid in determining the difference between epilepsy and other forms of convulsions has been made available by a special test which measures the electrical waves in the brain. This is called electroencephalography.

This test is now generally used whenever available on all patients who have convulsions or fits. In epilepsy these electrical waves are different from those of the normal.

The less serious kind of epilepsy is called petit mal, in which there is a brief loss of consciousness without convulsions. The severe type is called grand mal, in which there is a mental "black-out" associated with typical convulsions.

U. S. Starts '58 With Population Of 173 Million

WASHINGTON — The United States rings in the New Year with an estimated population of nearly 173 million. More than half of those millions are women.

The Census Bureau said Tuesday the New Year's Day population estimate of 172,800,000 compares with 169,800,000 a year ago. To achieve this year-to-year gain of three million, it figured the population showed a net increase of about 8,200 in every day of 1957.

Women had been estimated to outnumber men in this country by 1 1/2 million at midyear, the bureau said. It indicated this ratio still holds.

In its own special greeting to 1958, the Census Bureau demonstrated its attachment to figures by coming up with a parcel of miscellaneous statistics that add up to one big fact: The country is growing.

It said there was a birth every 7 1/2 seconds during 1957, a death every 20 seconds, an immigrant arriving every 2 minutes and an emigrant leaving every 20 minutes.

If you juggle these average figures long enough, you find out that the population scored a net gain of one every 11 seconds.

The bureau also estimated that 3,400 Americans reached the normal retirement age of 65 on the average day this year. The total for the year was 1,200,000.

About 6,000 Americans reached the voting age of 21 on the average day and 10,000 celebrated their 6th birthdays — the customary age for starting school.

And here are some figures you might want to fix in your mind if you hope to get on a television quiz program:

There were 50 million households in the United States in 1957, 12,700,000 wives held jobs outside the home, 41,200,000 Americans were going to school and 7 1/2 million held college degrees.

Sputnik 1st May Make Plunge Today

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — Sputnik I, which burst upon the world last Oct. 4 as history's first man-made satellite, may die quietly today unseen by human eyes.

American astronomers say the 23-inch, 184-pound sphere has been "lost" for the past month. They base their prediction of its death on orbit calculations carried forward from observations made in late November and early December.

Dr. Fred L. Whipple, director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory, says it's impossible to pinpoint just where the final flaming plunge into the earth's atmosphere may take place.

The Smithsonian has alerted its 150 Moonwatch teams throughout the world to maintain a death watch for the Soviet satellite. Observation of its final dive, when it should look like a fireball or meteorite, is of the utmost scientific importance, the observatory says.

Russia has said they expect the satellite to end its orbit early this month. The Soviets have issued reports on the satellite's total revolutions but no information on its position. The number of trips since launching—over 1,350 this morning—can be calculated without any observations.

In its nearly three months, the satellite has travelled approximately 35 million miles at upwards of 18,000 miles per hour. This is about equal to the minimum distance to Mars, more than enough to reach Venus and more than one third of the distance to the sun.

The dog-carrying Sputnik II, launched Nov. 3 in a much higher orbit, is expected to last several more months.

2 Hospitalized After Shootings

Authorities Holding Husbands in Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two wives are in the hospital here as the result of separate shootings shortly after midnight New Year's Day.

In both cases, the husband is being held for investigation, police said.

Mrs. Sandra Lee DeVere, 18, an expectant mother, is in fair condition at St. Anthony Hospital. She was shot as she and her husband left a New Year's Eve party and police said she told them she could not recall seeing anyone other than her husband in the vicinity at the time.

Her husband Charles, 21, identified at Capital University Seminary (Lutheran) here, was quoted saying he turned his back to his wife preparatory to opening their car's door, heard shots, dropped to the ground instinctively and then found his wife wounded.

At White Cross Hospital, Mrs. Mary Ann Patrick, 46, is in fair condition. Police said she told them she broke a bottle of liquor over her 51-year-old husband Vacher's head in an argument and that he pursued and shot her.

Narrow Band of Snow Falls Near Lake Erie

CLEVELAND (AP) Residents of Greater Cleveland making their first treks of 1958 to offices, factories and schools found as much as eight inches of snow on the ground in some areas today.

But in parts of the Greater Cleveland area you'd have to scrape to get together a decent snowball.

The Weather Bureau said a narrow band of heavy snow extends from Avon Lake, west of Cleveland, through the downtown area and eastward along U.S. 32 into Geauga County.

In some of the higher eastern suburbs, five to eight inches accumulated before midnight. The storm tapered off into snow flurries by early morning. More flurries and a low of 10 degrees were predicted for today.

Akron received about an inch, the Weather Bureau said, and there were snow showers at Zanesville, Youngstown and Findlay.

Skelton's Condition Serious But Improving

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Comedian Red Skelton's condition is described as slowly improving but still serious.

An attack of asthma and lung congestion carried Skelton to the brink of death Monday night.

"I can't honestly say that he is past the danger stage yet," his physician, Dr. Garth K. Graham said Wednesday night.

Members of his family paid Skelton a New Year's Day visit in St. John's Hospital.

Human Skeleton Found In Old Storage Building

UHRICHVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Tuscarawas County coroner Philip Doughton plans tests to learn something about a human skeleton found Wednesday in an old storage building belonging to the Martis Ferry Glove Co.

The skeleton, wrapped in a newspaper and a burlap bag, was found in a wooden box on the second floor of the building by two boys who were playing there. Police Chief Ralph Romig said the first floor of the building was used for storage of equipment and was seldom occupied.

Two Attorneys Top List of Candidates For State Position

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two men whose names sound alike but are spelled differently are front-runners among candidates for president of the State School Board the next two years, the Ohio State Journal here says.

They are Elliott E. Meyers of Ironton and Charlton Myers of Marion. Both are attorneys. Meyers is vice president of the board.

Another attorney, Robert A. Manchester of Canfield, is president. He cannot succeed himself. He and four others were re-elected to the board for six-year terms Nov. 5, when three new members were elected.

One of the three, Edward C. Ames of Toledo, has already taken his seat. He is serving the remaining two years of the four-year term of Joseph D. Stecher of Toledo, who resigned. The others are Eric V. Weber of Cincinnati and Mrs. Jeannette S. Wagner of Chagrin Falls.

They will be seated Jan. 13 when the 23-member board meets to reorganize.

Citizenship At Its Best

E. S. Dawson, who retired from the Deming Company Tuesday after 35 years as plant superintendent and vice president in charge of engineering and manufacturing, has, most of all, discharged his obligations as a citizen of the community in exemplary fashion.

In addition to his responsibilities with the Deming Company, "Bud" took time to serve his town in many avenues of community service. His interest and leadership found him actively engaged in and oftentimes heading the Community Chest campaigns, the Red Cross board, the Board of Education, and the Scholarship Association, among others.

His sound advice and good judgment has benefited many people and many organizations.

His pattern of community service could well be followed by others.

Retirement will find "Bud" leisurely busy with one or more of his many hobbies. We wish him many years of good health and happiness. He has earned it.

Ups and Downs of Railroading

Railroad rate-making is so complex that even the Interstate Commerce Commission has conceded the point by permitting "quickie" procedures to cut out months of paper work.

Railroads are now trying to take advantage of this break by asking for upward readjustments to take effect Feb. 1, with the paper work deferred until later.

But even if the readjustments are authorized, their problem of declining revenues will not be solved by higher rates on a wide range of commodities in railroad traffic.

The problem is not alone in rates that do not go up as fast or as far as overhead. It also is in the tendency of each attempt to recover more income to drive away some of the sources of income.

Aside from bulk commodities like iron ore and coal, which railroads are peculiarly adapted to handle, there are few items in railroads' freight lists that cannot be driven into other forms of transportation by "uneconomic" rate readjustments.

Railroading is competitive with trucking, river and canal shipping and even freight-flying airplanes. In its passenger service, it also is competitive with privately owned automobiles.

This private competition also is beginning to make itself felt in freight business. Besides the common carriers with which railroads must compete on an unsubsidized basis, more and more private carriers are coming into existence. These are the truck fleets owned by private industry, and they become casable whenever common carrier rates cease to be more advantageous than the cost of setting up a separate department of transportation.

No one can ever know what railroading might have been able to do had it been released from the restraints placed on it when it was a long-distance transportation monopoly. The clock of history cannot be turned back.

But no one can close his eyes any longer to the frequency with which passenger trains are being taken out of service and with which railroads are seeking freight-rate readjustments to compensate for rising costs and declining volume.

Railroading is an indispensable part of the distributive system that is the secret of this country's economic flexibility. But the time has been a hand for many years when its problems will have to be given as much public consideration as its rates have been given.

'The Matter Is Being Studied'

The U.S. Bureau of Public Roads must forgive some of us for wondering why public money must be spent in a long study of highway safety.

"Although we have no doubt the study will be thorough and made according to rules of scientific investigation, with all kinds of statistical tables and charts, we doubt seriously that anything new will be discovered.

But finding something new is not usually the purpose of a study anyway. The purpose is to pin down to a firm factual basis what already have been established by observation. Until this has been done, so legislators can be hit over the head with an official report, they will not trust their own eyes and ears or believe what they know to be true in their own minds.

These things are common knowledge about highway safety:

1. The greatest single threat to highway safety is excessive speed under circumstances which call for slow and moderate speeds.
2. The greatest single cause of excessive speed and all the other damfool things that drivers do is failure — and sometimes inability — to accept social responsibility for operating automobiles on public highways.
3. The greatest single cause of irresponsibility is laxity of law and law enforcement that invites damfool drivers to abuse the rights of others, because punishment is neither stern enough nor sure enough.

4. The greatest single cause of watered-down traffic laws and traffic law enforcement is the widespread sentiment among people who drive automobiles that the other fellow is the one who needs to be held in line. This, in turn, gets back to failure to accept social responsibility for operating automobiles.

We do not know what the Bureau of Public Roads will put in its official report for the sake of convincing legislators that they are being given reliable information. But one thing is certain.

Any official report that does not stress the responsibility of people who are given the right to operate automobiles will have missed the point completely.

The safest automobile that can be made being driven on the safest roads that can be designed is still a potentially lethal weapon in the hands of a damfool driver. Sooner or later, he either will kill himself or someone else with it — and unfortunately he usually kills someone else while he is killing himself.

'Freedom Of Choice' Proposal

One of the issues Ohioans will get squared away on early next year is the proposal to amend their state constitution to bar union-shop agreements.

One of the first details of the issue that will come up for discussion is the propriety of referring to the proposal as a "right to work" amendment. The unions say this is a misnomer; that the Ohio constitution could not guarantee the right to work.

The unions are right.

This should not be called a "right to work" proposal, even though that has been the title given to the proposal in other states.

It should be called a "freedom of choice" proposal, because that is what it actually is. It proposes that no Ohioan shall be forced to join a private organization in order to protect his public right to full and equal protection as a citizen.

Unions, themselves, would be the first to protest, as they should, if their members were forced to join fraternal organizations, pay membership dues to private clubs, subscribe to the policies of associations, or even to become enrolled in religious or patriotic organization as a condition of employment.

Freedom of choice is a fundamental right of citizenship in the United States. The vast and complex network of private organizations that have contributed importantly to the structure of American society has been created not by compulsion but by free choice.

In order to enlist support and carry out their purposes, these organizations have had to command the respect and enthusiasm of their members. If they were unable to do this, they suffered the consequences.

Unions have nothing to fear from freedom of choice now that their right to exist and to bargain collectively for their members is guaranteed by the Labor-Management Act.

The only unions that would be penalized by free choice of membership are those which could not command support on that basis.

If Ohio is going to have a showdown on this important issue, the issue should be stated as clearly as possible.

It is the right to make a free choice of membership in private organizations—to strike a balance between the advantages and disadvantages of belonging to a fraternal organization.

It goes without saying that there are both good and bad unions. It goes without saying that no U.S. citizen should be made to support any union unless it can command a worker's respect.

Fuel For Safety Drive

Unanimous approval of a recommendation for tighter licensing requirements for auto drivers by the 400 delegates to the President's Committee for Traffic Safety in Washington provides the fuel for a nationwide campaign.

The delegates agreed there should be state-approved training classes for applicants and that requirements for licensing should be uniform throughout the country. There was agreement that there should be uniform traffic laws as well as realistic speed limits on major highways, with strict enforcement of the set limits.

These proposals coincided with a report by the American Automobile Association showing that the number of pedestrians killed in traffic had dropped 38 per cent since 1940 but non-pedestrian traffic deaths had risen 42 per cent.

The conference said state and local officials could help reduce these totals by making it tougher to get and keep a driver's license.

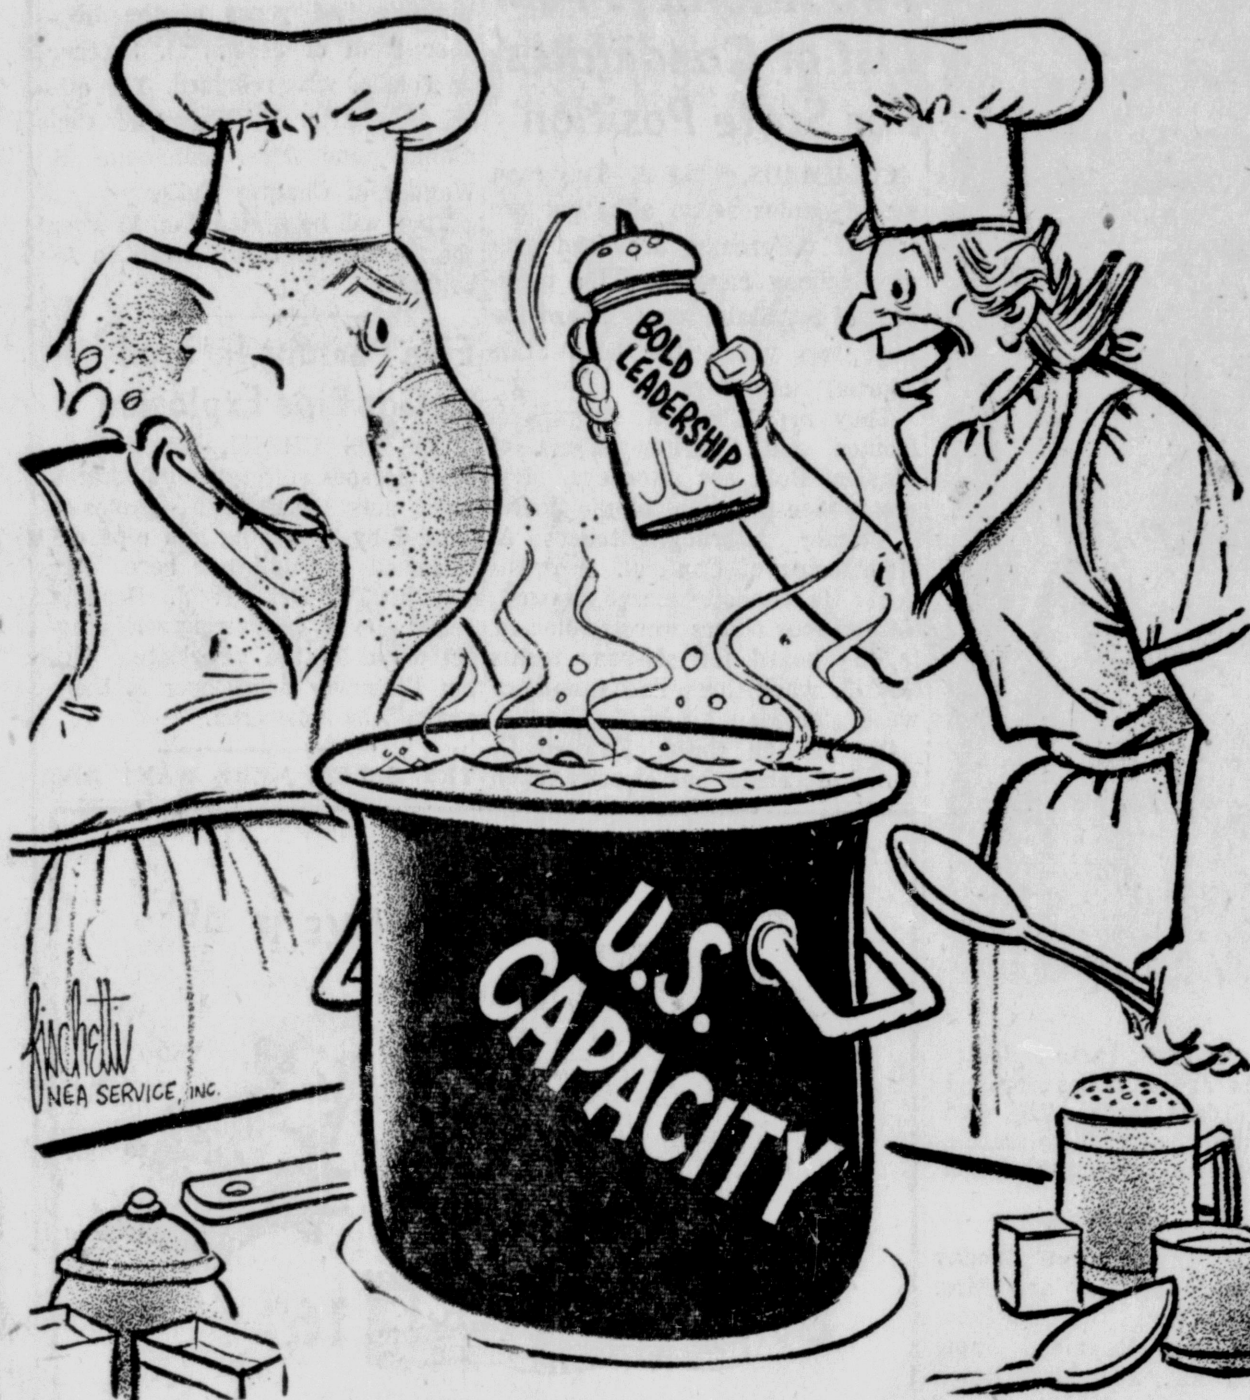

In a separate report made public in Albany, Gov. Harriman's traffic safety committee came up with two recommendations for New York.

The first calls for a mandatory 60-day suspension for two speeding or reckless driving convictions within 12 months, in addition to the present mandatory revocation for three violations in 18 months.

The other would provide for two-year probationary licenses for drivers regaining licenses after revocation.

While both of these sets of recommendations have great merit, they do not solve the problem. They do provide starting places, and good ones at that, for state and local officials to overhaul enforcement machinery.

"It'll Surprise You---a Little of This Will Go a Long Way"

Power Vs. Population

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

The governments of the great nations are still practicing the politics of power as if there lay the key to the lasting security and betterment of mankind.

But a rising mountain of evidence suggests that they are misdirecting their efforts. While they stiffen their power with ever more ruinous armament, tremendous problems are engulfing their peoples.

The greatest of these is the population explosion. It may in truth be basic to all the others. And it could work with deadlier effect upon the governments of the world than the most devastating nuclear burst.

If there are men on Mars and they have any means of observing life on this earth, they must be amused at the irony of our situation.

We are involved in economic and social changes so vast that they ought to command the full minds and energies of the world's ablest men. To meet these changes calls for an unexampled spirit of dedication, for undiluted effort and for a supreme exercise of human imagination.

YET FOR THE MOST PART we are treating these changes as if they were some kind of minor tropical storm which will never reach our shores.

In the Kremlin, men warped by outdated notions of power and its fruits go on building great engines of war. They may not really want to use them, but they clearly want to make the world tremble before them, and to find global conquest down this path of fear.

We in the West believe, with good reason, that we have no safe course but to balance this threat, to blunt the Kremlin's aggressiveness by matching its potential for ruin. So we, too, devote ourselves heavily to armaments and treaties for defense and aid that helps defense.

All the while this frantic race goes on at accelerating speed, a greater race is in progress. In America, in Russia, in China, in India and almost every habitable spot on this earth, human numbers soar dizzyly.

INDIA, A NATION TRYING to lift itself to higher levels of living, says frankly and with no little bewilderment: "We've got to run just to stand still." Economic planners barely get the economic base raised up when they find the advance offset by new gains in population.

The dilemma has long afflicted Asia. What is staggering is the scale of growth there now, and the fact that even wealthy America is no longer immune to the population shock wave.

Armaments can have no effect on this spreading swarm of humanity, except as pestilence has had in earlier times.

The world needs disarmament not simply so it may avoid war. It needs the chance to devote its full human and physical resources to finding an enduring means of bringing the world's peoples into balance with the world they live in.

This is an assignment for an era, and one that commands priority above all other human enterprises, if humanity is to survive and prosper.

Balanced Budget

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

Attempt by Ike May Stir Political Fight

If President Eisenhower comes up with a recommended balanced budget for next year he's in for some trouble with both the Republicans and Democrats in Congress this session.

The White House has already said it will ask for an extra billion dollars for this year to spur ballistic missile work. It's reported that an additional two billion dollars for more missile development will be included in the 1959 fiscal year money requests. A request is likely to be made for a boost in foreign aid spending. And a big sum will be asked for aid to education.

This will necessarily mean that some domestic government programs will have to be cut if there is to be a balanced budget, which is the prospect that Congress does not like to face.

A DEMOCRATIC congressman sees it like this:

"If the President sends up a balanced budget it'll be a political maneuver. He'll assume that Congress will not make the cuts on domestic programs which he must recommend. But he'll be able to blame Democratic control of the two houses for putting the government in the red."

Republican congressmen don't take kindly to the possibility of Ike sending up a balanced budget, either. Relations between the GOP legislators and the White House deteriorated through most of the last session.

The feeling of a lot of Republicans last session was that they had poor communications with the White House and that a lack of administration leadership hampered their work in Congress. Many GOP legislators, returning to town from long visits to their home states, report sharp and unfavorable public reaction to the administration from the launchings of the Russian Sputniks.

A REPUBLICAN congressman, anticipating a recommended balanced budget, puts it this way: "Having to support administration cuts in veterans benefits, the farm program or any other domestic programs is just to saddle us with an additional handicap when we go to the voters next November."

It is reliably reported that the White House will want something from the five billion dollar veteran budget. Veterans lobbies may have slipped in importance in Washington.

But recommended cuts in widows' pensions, disability payments or veterans hospital care is all they need as a rallying cry to regain their old power.

The Republicans have had chronic trouble with the farmers and any recommended cuts in America's agricultural programs will just make it more politically hazardous for GOP farm-belt solons.

When you get into the rest of the federal programs, they're so small by comparison, savings in them are hardly worth fooling with.

THE DANGERS in the approaching session are the veiled threats of both Democrats and Republicans to "get even" with the White House for attempting to achieve a balanced budget. This could result in all sorts of politics and maneuvering, beyond what usually goes on during an election year.

Recommending an increase in taxes is one solution to speeding up the missile program and keeping a balanced budget. But Congress isn't enthusiastic about this one, either.

Simply agreeing to get into deficit spending to speed up the missile program would be an easy way out for the President. But it's reported that he is adamant about trying to maintain a balanced budget and still believes it can be achieved.

It is said that this is what he meant when he told the public it had to "roll up its sleeves" after his return from Paris.

Next Rocket Out

By TRUMAN TWILL

The space-thinkers are pretty well agreed that the first travelers into the great beyond when the time comes should be something special.

They are not sure how special they need to be, but they are sure most of us would not meet the specifications. We are too sane. This is a matter that will take some going into.

People who have been wondering why there is this sudden interest in the great beyond, because they personally like it right here on earth and have no intention of leaving unless they are pushed off, already have gone into it.

That is why the first travelers to head for heavenly horizons will need to be out of the ordinary, perhaps so far out of the ordinary the rest of us would be inclined to call for the keepers with the nets. Or if they are not out of the ordinary in that direction, they would have to be of some special variety of stoics, like Buddhist monks or Eskimos. Things are going to be so outlandish on the trip to the great beyond that an ordinary person would go crazy.

He would be scudding through space blindly for months on end, unable to see, hear, or feel anything. He would have no way of feeding himself or cleaning himself. Death would be imminent, and fear of the unknown would be always present. It would be something like a train trip in pioneer times but a lot longer. It would be more like the voyage of Columbus across the Atlantic, without the water.

The scientist thinks the best way to handle the hardships would be to dope a normal human type and slow down his metabolism by freezing him half to death before the trip began. Then when he arrived, if he ever did, he would be in no worse shape than Columbus was in. He would not know where he was or how he got there. On the other hand, if he did not arrive, he would be in no condition to worry about that, either.

Or to be blunt, the space-thinkers have made up their minds no one in his senses is going to go to the great beyond. Two things would happen:

1. A sane person wouldn't start.
 2. A sane person couldn't finish.
- The project will require someone who lives on the off-beat, and the type that comes to mind is the self-desroying individual who intends to jump off a bridge, swallow something poisonous, or end it all anyway.

There should be enough of these, if they can be rounded up discreetly, to shoot half a dozen into the great beyond every hour on the hour, if that ever becomes desirable.

With everything to gain and nothing to lose, they would not mind the experience. They wanted to get away from it all, didn't they? And provided they are lucky enough to stand the trip, they will be starting over at a distant point in the great beyond.

Back at the good old earth, meanwhile, the rest of us will be carrying on as usual. Everybody will be where he wants to be. The dissatisfied customers can always take the next rocket out, which is what they used to say about malcontents and the next train, before railroads began to go out of the passenger business.

Economic Indicator

Thus far the sales of 1958 model automobiles have been disappointing. New business is such in fact that such major producers as Ford are laying off sizable numbers of their employees.

Inevitably this has to be poor news for the economy as a whole, for we all know how big a role the auto makers play in the total business picture.

It is perhaps a smaller role than it once was, what with the growth of activities like the chemical industry and the wider reliance on service trades. But its swath through industry is still impressive.

Recently the American Finance Conference, an organization of automobile credit companies, reminded us of this. It pointed out:

"That the automobile industry in 1956 consumed 64.8 per cent of the natural rubber and 61 per cent of the synthetic rubber used in this country; 42.4 per cent of the lead; 42 per cent of the sheet steel (which also goes for iceboxes, stoves, etc.); and 28 per cent of the U.S. zinc consumed. The list could be lengthened to include other materials in lesser amounts."

If 1958 is to be a good year generally, things obviously will have to improve substantially in an industry that draws so heavily on other fields. The country needs the tonic of a busy Detroit.

Afro-Asians End 1st Conference

Delegates Head Home Parroting Red Line

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Delegates to the first unofficial Asian-African People's Conference headed home today with a wide range of propaganda resolutions, many of them parroting the Communist line.

The 42 nations and colonies at the weeklong conference which ended Wednesday were not represented by official government spokesmen, but by 400 leaders of groups which in many cases are frowned on or outlawed at home.

A chief event of the conference was a Soviet offer of economic aid to all Asian and African countries.

A last-minute attempt to delete President Eisenhower's name from a resolution attacking the Eisenhower Doctrine and the Baghdad Pact failed at the final plenary session.

Instead of using Eisenhower's name, Al el Bahawan, mayor of Tunis, proposed a reference to the "U.S. doctrine of power vacuum," an Egyptian propaganda phrase based on the charge that the American policy seeks to replace waning British and French influence in the Middle East.

But the reference to the Eisenhower Doctrine by name was approved overwhelmingly after Jordanian delegate Shafic Roshdat, an exile from his Western-aligned country, said no one would understand the meaning of the substitute phrase.

In other resolutions, the conference condemned imperialism "in all its forms," attacked military and political pacts and foreign military bases and condemned the European Common Market as a step to "strangle the aspirations of people for independence from colonial domination."

It called for the independence of Oman which is now ruled by a sultan friendly to Britain, the unification of Korea and nationwide free elections to unify Viet Nam. Red China's admission to the United Nations, disarmament and a flat ban on nuclear weapon tests.

Old Statute Makes City $2.88 Richer

NEW YORK (AP)—New York City was $2.88 richer after Mayor Robert W. Wagner swore in 45 incumbent commissioners and officials and two new appointees in ceremonies at City Hall.

Under a city statute more than 100 years old, each of the commissioners had to pay a filing fee of 6 cents before taking office.

One legal official said Robert Moses forgot to pay his 12 cents—he was sworn in as parks commissioner and as city construction coordinator—but there was enough money left over to cover him because other commissioners didn't bother to pick up their change.

MAN, 52, DIES OF BURNS
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A seriously burned man died Monday when his clothes caught fire, apparently as he tried to cook a meal. Arthur Castleman died New Year's Eve. The 52-year-old man was crippled, firemen said.

Skunk cabbage is often the first plant of spring.

'Pete' The Python Startles Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Pete the python, who won fame in 1954 when it escaped from the Fort Worth zoo, startled the city again Tuesday.

To the amazement of all, "Pete" gave birth to about 50 gigantic white eggs, and set off a scramble for a new name. At the moment Patricia is favored. Most amazed of all was Harry Jackson, owner of the python. "Pete" escaped in September of 1954, and was free for 15 days before she was found not far from her cage.

Jackson said the eggs probably are infertile. Another python shares "Pete's" cage, but Jackson said he doubted it was the papa.

"Besides, I don't know what sex it is either. After what's happened to Pete, I wouldn't guess."

Children Given Nearly 1,000 Pairs of Shoes

DALLAS (AP)—Brother Bill Herrod, the West Dallas minister who Wednesday handed out nearly 1,000 pairs of shoes to needy children, is glad now that rain forced postponement of the shoe party, originally set for Christmas Day. After the postponement was announced, one Dallas department store sent him 300 pairs of shoes for distribution at his combination clinic, mission and recreation center.

Herrod has announced that in the future shoe parties will be held on New Year's Day so that all stores will have an opportunity to donate shoes from their after-Christmas inventory.

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY guests attended the holiday college dance Monday evening at the Salem Golf Club.

Hosts and hostesses for the affair were William Bennett, Judy Bowman, Walter Deming, Ronnie and Barbara Durand, Sandy Enemark, Joan Fester, Anne Farringham, Marcia Fitzpatrick, Sandra Gray, Ruth Ann Greenwood, Ralph Hanna, Jere Hochadel, William Hoppes, Roger Jones, Rita and Robert McArthur, Mary Mercer, Carol and Dale Middeker, Ann Moorehead, Thomas Mulford, Larry Parker, Helen Potter, John Stephenson, Linda Tame, Barbara Young and Barbara Ziegler.

Music was provided by Bill Nebeth's Orchestra. The room was decorated in keeping with the holiday season.

Out-of-town guests were from Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Youngstown, Columbiana and Canfield.

MISS YOUNG HEE KO of Pusan, Korea, was a guest at Monday night's meeting of the Goshen Harmony Club. Mrs. E. H. Weingart of the Goshen Road was hostess.

Orange Eaters Heavy In U.S.

We're a nation of orange eaters. Government figures show that the average American eats about 38 pounds (farm weight) a year of fresh oranges. Select firm ones, heavy for their size, indicating good juice content. Color has little to do with quality. Those with considerable green may be fully ripe, and russeted fruit is as good as those with the traditionally bright color.

Besides being very rich in ascorbic acid (vitamin C), oranges contain fruit sugars and minerals. Orange pulp and membrane offer substances called bioflavonoids, reportedly helpful in treating disorders of the circulatory system, under medical supervision. In eating the whole orange (segments) you get these bioflavonoids as well as the other nutrients.

Fresh Orange-Vegetable Slaw
Combine 3 cups medium shredded cabbage, 1½ cups diced fresh apples, 3 diced medium oranges, ½ cup chopped fresh dates, 2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice, 1 teaspoon sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt and ¼ cup mayonnaise. Toss lightly. Serve on head lettuce. Garnish with fresh orange cartwheels.

Fresh Orange Broiled Lamb Chops
Place loin lamb chops, cut 1-inch thick under the broiler. Cook 18 minutes, turning to brown both sides. Remove from broiler, sprinkle each chop with teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper and top with a slice of orange cut ¼-inch thick. Brush with melted butter or margarine and place under broiler 3 minutes or until orange is brown.

Only Eight Die On State Roads

62-Year-Old Man Dies In Akron Fire

By The Associated Press
Off to a horrifying start, the accidental death rate in Ohio for the holiday period suddenly and inexplicably halted early New Year's morning.

No additional deaths were reported throughout the rest of the 30-hour period surveyed by The Associated Press, leaving the toll for 6 p.m. Tuesday-to-midnight Wednesday holiday period at eight traffic fatalities and one fire death.

No deaths were recorded in Ohio in the miscellaneous category, which covers accidental death from causes other than traffic or fire.

Until the death rate suddenly halted before dawn on New Year's Day, it appeared Ohio might again lead the nation in holiday fatalities. The state had 31 in the 30-hour Christmas holiday period, 24 in traffic.

Ohio in fact led the nation in deaths this time for a while. But, as figures held firm, other states recorded more deaths and eventually passed the Ohio figures.

Among deaths recorded early in the new year were two pedestrian fatalities—six counties apart—which claimed the lives of two women at almost the same instant and under strangely similar circumstances.

One woman was killed near Fremont, crossing U. S. 20. The other was hit on U. S. 33 near Lancaster.

TUESDAY NIGHT
The state's single fire fatality, 63-year-old Henry Lechleitner, burned to death when fire destroyed a frame house where he lived in Akron. Firmen said he apparently set fire to a davenport while smoking.

Francis McWathy, age unknown of Roselle, N.J., died in a collision on Ohio 7 about seven miles south of Youngstown. He had left the Ohio Turnpike and was apparently looking for a motel, police said.

A man about 35, still unidentified, was hit by a car and dragged along a Cleveland street, then struck by a taxicab.

Bobby Lee Hines, 17, of Medina, was standing beside a wrecker that was pulling his car from a ditch along Ohio 252 west of Medina. A motorist, who told the Highway Patrol the wrecker's lights confused him struck and killed Hines and injured the wrecker operator.

WEDNESDAY (All before 6 a.m. EST)
In almost identical accidents, both of which happened at 12:10 a.m. EST, two Ohio women were hit and killed as they walked across busy highways.

A collision on the southern outskirts of Dayton killed one person in each car. It happened at Ohio 48 and Columbia Lane, and Ray Benjamin Kenrick 43, of Dayton, the driver of one car, and Mrs. Virginia Hague, 37, of Centerville, a passenger in her husband's car, were dead on arrival at Miami Valley Hospital.

First steel mill in Turkey started production in 1939.

Ohio Airman Faces Trial Proceedings in Korea

KUNSAN AIR BASE, Korea (AP)—Charged with involuntary manslaughter, Airman Edward L. Young of Rt. 1, Philo, Ohio, is scheduled to go on trial Monday before a general court-martial. Young is one of two Air Force guards accused in connection with the shooting of two Korean girls at the Kunssan base Sept. 15. One of the girls died.

Airman Carroll D. Taylor of Cincinnati was convicted on a lesser charge and sentence to nine months in prison.

Young's trial was to have begun Dec. 13 but was postponed to allow further investigation.

The airman have contended they were only trying to frighten the girls away from the bomb dump they were guarding. Taylor claimed the girls were trespassing and ran when ordered to halt.

In assisting a blind person, do not attempt to "push" him. Give him your arm and let him guide himself by the way you move.

Union Members Can Get Latest Word on Strike

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The 1,060 Kansas City members of Local 6450 of the Communications Workers Union, and anyone else who wants to, can get the union's latest word on contract negotiations with the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. in New York by dialing a number.

The negotiations involve workers who man the A.T.'s long distance lines across the country. Local 6450 in Kansas City leased an electronic recording and replay gadget developed by the telephone company and hooked it to a set of telephone lines. By dialing the number, you can listen to a recorded message about the negotiations.

Clarence West, president of the local, said the recording is changed whenever there is new word from New York.

British railways are not yet completely electrified—151 steam locomotives have been ordered for the coming year.

GOLDEN BOY—Truly a man with the golden touch, Herman Diemer of Brooklyn, N. Y., who washes about 10 cents' worth of gold dust from his hands every night, is retiring from the job after 62 years. Diemer, 74, has melted down an estimated two million pounds of gold over the years while employed as chief melter for J. R. Wood and Sons, the largest maker of wedding and engagement rings. He has a record that's also golden, having missed only three and one-half days during all his years with the firm. (And in case you wondered, the company traps the wash water used by the workers to recover the gold dust.)

Teenagers Board Yacht in Keys

Family's Holiday Cruise Turns Into 14-Hour Gunpoint Ordeal

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—A Winter Park family's holiday cruise turned into a 14-hour gunpoint ordeal when three teen-agers boarded their yacht and demanded to be taken to Mexico.

A note smuggled ashore brought rescue for Richard Sias, his wife and four children.

Officials considered bringing charges of kidnapping and even the archaic crime of piracy against the youths, all from San Antonio, Tex.

Appearance before Criminal Court Judge Thomas S. Caro was scheduled at Key West for Mike Moore, 17; Tommy Edwards, 15; and Johnny Cox, 16.

Sias, 53, a packinghouse machinery manufacturer his wife Phyllis, 50, sons, David 14 and John 10 and daughters Jane, 15, and Bobby 13 were shaken but physically unharmed.

The three youths boarded the sumptuous 40-foot power yacht Fies II at Craig in the Keys New Year's Eve. They pointed a .22-caliber rifle at the Siases and said "Keep quiet, we'll tell you what to do," Sias related.

"They were polite and didn't use any foul language," he said. "but they kept the gun on me and my wife and made me do what they wanted."

Sias said the boys first insisted they should take off right away for Mexico. He persuaded them it would be necessary to take on more fuel, obtainable only the next morning.

The Fies II went into Islamorada for fuel and while it lay there, young David managed to slip ashore momentarily with a note which he handed to Murry Cribb, a docker. The note said: "We are being held at gunpoint. Get help."

Cribb rushed to a garage nearby and telephoned the sheriff's department. Monroe County deputies borrowed a motorboat and gave chase about 10 minutes after the Fies II put to sea with David peering anxiously astern for signs of rescue and his mother frantically waving from a cabin doorway to watches who already were hurrying to the dock.

Deputies Norman Parker and John Hovey overhauled the yacht and as they came aboard, the Texas teen-agers dropped their guns overboard and surrendered.

Keeping up with the Joneses is all right so long as you still manage to retain your individuality in how you do it.

A lot of people are building recreation rooms in their homes and paneling them in woods of the western pine region. It's a good idea to follow this practice yourself. But when it comes to finishing the paneling, then is the time to step out and express your individuality.

To give a different look to wood paneling in the recreation room, the Western Pine Association has developed six new finishes. A free folder shows them in full color with directions for achieving the effects and some outstanding examples of recreation rooms paneled in woods of the western pine region.

The finishes range from Navajo Night, on the dark side, to Fuego Flame, a mixture of bright red. A strikingly different finish that may be suitable to achieve a gay feeling is Paiute Paint. It is created by dabs of color at random and is bound to appeal to the "expressionist" school. Other new colors are Green Glacier, Yellowstone and Modoc Smoke.

For your free copy, write to: Western Pine Association, Yeon Building, Portland 4, Oregon. Ask for "Recreation Room" folder.

fectively as a unified planning agency."

This was essentially what Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, the Army's chief of research and development, proposed in urging the subcommittee to recommend abolition of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Gavin suggested they be replaced as a planning group by men of three or four-star rank who would hold no command functions at the time and would never return to their individual services.

Dr. Vannevar Bush, former head of the wartime Office of Scientific Research and Development, proposed a central military policy planning board made up of military men already retired or about to retire.

Air Force Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle (ret.) told the Johnson subcommittee there ought to be a Pentagon reorganization leading to the formation of a single general staff for the three branches of the service.

a branch of the army, has 200 planes. The active army consists of 10,000 well-equipped men split up into infantry, artillery, cavalry, engineer and aviation branches. There are eight infantry brigades.

More than 40,000 Americans are stationed in Venezuela, managing and operating U.S. investments estimated at three billion dollars.

Seriously Threatened Rule

The uprising represented the most serious threat to Perez Jimenez's dictatorial rule since he led an army officers' coup which overthrew Romulo Gallegos' constitutional government in 1949.

He ruled as part of a three-man military junta until elected provisional president by a constituent assembly in 1952. In the election of November 1952, government candidate began trailing the opposition in the ballot count. Officials suddenly postponed further announcements. When they were resumed the government's men were listed far ahead.

heavy spending as a means of spurring business and heading off deflation.

Must Use Common Sense

"The very fellows who were demanding retrenchment are now saying we must spend more to keep business going," he commented. "We have got to exercise common horse sense in our spending."

Cannon said that while he realizes more money will be needed for some defense programs, offsetting savings can be made in other military items.

"The Navy should be restricted to destroyers and submarines," he said. "Big surface ships are no defense against guided missiles or against enemy planes coming over the North Pole. For the same reason, we don't need huge land forces."

May Not Have To Up Limit

Cannon said he believes Congress can get through the coming session without voting to increase the national debt limit, now 275 billion dollars. The administration has not yet announced whether it will seek an increase, but House Republican Leader Martin (Mass) said this week the debt limit almost certainly will have to be raised.

"I believe we can balance the budget," Cannon said, "but with national revenues declining it's going to be more difficult. It is my hope that we can save enough out of nonessential items to make up for the increase in defense spending and still keep a balanced budget."

None Hurt In 3-Car Crash At E. Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Wednesday evening at 7:10, shortly after the snow began to fall, there was a three-car collision on the N. Market St. hill. Clifford McFarland, 19, of North Lima, attempted to pass a car driven by Edward J. Jacobs, 22, of Poland.

The collision occurred when Lewis is Paris, 20, of Bellaire, driving the southbound on-coming car, applied his brakes to avoid McFarland.

In Mayor's court, McFarland pleaded guilty to the charge of passing without the assured clear distance ahead. None of the three men was injured. Damage to their cars was extensive.

SEEK TO CURB ALCOHOLISM

MOSCOW (AP) — The government advanced the price of vodka today "to help in the struggle against the extravagant use of alcoholic liquor."

The retail prices of wines, automobiles, motorcycles and machine-made carpets also were raised.

Prices of a number of unspecified industrial goods went up or down.

The Ministry of Retail Trade did not specify the new prices, but at a liquor store half a liter of best grade vodka, formerly priced at 25 rubles and 90 kopeks, was quoted today at 30 rubles and 80 kopeks.

At the official rate of exchange — four rubles to the dollar — that would be an increase from about $6.50 a pint to about $7.75 a pint.

Automobile sales places reported the price of the new Volga comparable to the smallest American cars, was increased from 32,000 to 40,000 rubles.

HEADS ATOMIC STUDIES — Dr. Herbert L. Anderson, 43, has been appointed director of the Enrico Fermi Institute of Nuclear Studies at Chicago. He succeeds Dr. Samuel K. Allison, who resigned the administrative duties to devote more time to studies of low energy particles.

SALEM'S FINEST CANDIES TEMPTING and TANTILIZING

DRAMA'S END. — This was the scene Jan. 1 in Castro Valley, Calif., as a former mental patient, left, back to camera, identified as Louis J. Silva, was shot to death by Detective Thomas Houchins, second from left, of the Alameda County Sheriff's Department. At the time, Silva was charging Houchins with a rifle and a knife. Earlier, police said, Silva had terrorized a family of four for two hours and set fire to their house, garage and a barn. Closing in at right are detective Larry Walt, in striped shirt, and an unidentified deputy.

Two Drunken Drivers

Fined, Jailed at Lisbon

LISBON — Three motorists were fined a total of $200 and costs Wednesday by Mayor John Todd for traffic offenses, the first cases heard by the new mayor.

Rhoda Phyllis Winters, 44, of Salineville RD 1, was fined $50 and costs and was sentenced to 10 days in jail after she pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated.

Ralph Gump, 38, of Lakewood was fined $100 and costs and was given 3 days in jail for driving while intoxicated and $25 and costs for no operator's license.

Nina M. Arnold, 51, of Lakewood was fined $25 and costs for permitting an unlicensed driver to operate her car.

All arrests were made by village police.

CULVER CITY, Calif. (AP) — Modesty very nearly cost Charles O'Neill his life.

Policeman Jack Whitehouse fought his way through smoke to rescue O'Neill, 50, from the stater's burning dwelling Wednesday.

O'Neill, sleeping in the nude, resisted rescue efforts, Whitehouse said.

"He insisted he couldn't go outside looking like that," the policeman reported. In fact, O'Neill even swung a punch before he realized the officer's intentions were only helpful.

During the struggle Whitehouse inhaled smoke, and after he got O'Neill out of the house the officer had to

Begins Shipping to Other Cities

Akron Dairies Refuse to Pay Price Demanded by Milk Group

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Rather than sell Class I milk for $5.18 a hundredweight, Akron Milk Producers, Inc., is shipping the milk to other cities.

Dairies served by the association—including most of Akron's major dairies—Wednesday refused to accept delivery on 500,000 pounds of milk at the $5.50 price asked by the association.

But the dairies say there is no danger of anyone being without milk. They have adequate supplies for today, and "plenty" of milk will be available by Friday from other sources, they claim. The other sources would be outside Summit County and possibly outside the state dairy sources said.

The association said it had no trouble selling 50,000 gallons of milk hauled to other cities in its 56 trucks Wednesday. The cities taking the milk were not identified.

The association, representing a group of dairy farmers supplying the Akron market, said the $5.18 offered by the dairies would give dairy farmers less than half the premium they now are receiving. The dairy spokesman countered that they would pay no more than the 30-cent premium negotiated for the Cleveland market.

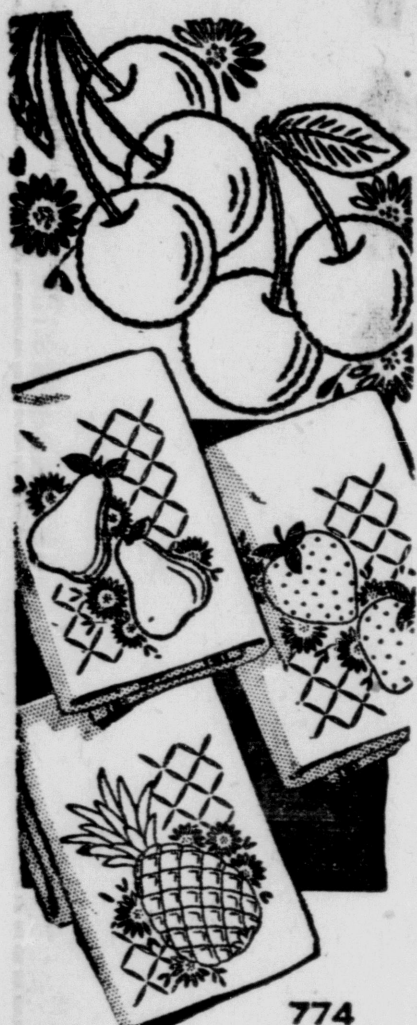

The premium, or amount to be paid above the price called for in the Federal Milk Marketing Order, is negotiated from month to month by the association and the dairies. The January price for the Cleveland market was announced a few days ago.

Not affected by the dispute are the Lawson Milk Co. and Reiter & Harttr, Inc., two of the largest handlers in the Akron area. They get their milk from independent producers.

Roger Buckley, association manager, called it a "lockout" and said he would take the matter to federal authorities.

Several milk handlers said there is a surplus of milk in the area. Among the areas where they expect to find surpluses to meet Akron's needs are Cleveland, Fremont, Fort Wayne, Ind., and Chicago.

Planetarium Opens New Show on Constellations

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—With two satellites already circling the earth and as many as 15 more expected likely in 1958, the Fels Planetarium Wednesday opened a new show to acquaint citizens with constellations.

"Knowledge of the stars and star groups or constellations can be of tremendous aid in tracking the paths of these man-made moons," said Dr. I. M. Levitt, Fels director, who gave the 15 figure for possible launchings in the coming year.

He said the lectures on constellations were part of a National Girl Scouts astronomy program for January.

Warren Man Ends Fifty Years of Law Practice

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—More than 50 years of law practice has ended for William B. Kilpatrick, widely known Warren attorney and former mayor of the city.

He announced his retirement Wednesday.

Kilpatrick, who served several terms as chairman of the Trumbull County Democratic Committee, was the first Democrat elected from the county to the Ohio Legislature, serving two terms in the House of Representatives.

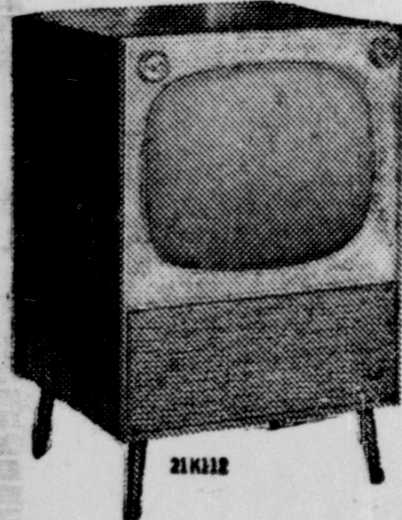

Kilpatrick would not disclose his age, telling a reporter that he was "not discussing that."

Salem To Seek 5th Win At New Philadelphia Friday

Home Squad Has Wins, 1 Loss

Host Quakers Paced By Their 6-5 Center

Salem High basketball Quakers will have their hands full when they travel to New Philadelphia Friday night to battle the Tuscarawas County Quakers in their fifth straight win of the campaign.

The New Philadelphians have compiled a 5-1 slate so far this season including a 61-39 verdict over Canton South, a team that beat Canton McKinley. Coach John Benjamin's squad will start Dave Masselli, 5-11 and Bill Riss, 6-04, or Vic Marsh, 6-3 at the forwards. At center will be 6-5 Merle Plum, the home team's leading scorer with 94 markers in 6 tilts.

At the guard posts will be 5-11 Zeke Harris and 5-7 Jim Watson or 6-4 Jim Rolli.

Last season, the Red and Black nipped New Philadelphia 72-71 in the last three seconds on a field goal by Mark Pention. The leading scorer for the losers in that game was Rolli. The jump shooting guard of the visiting Quakers racked up 22 markers. He made 11 of 19 shots.

Salem mentor John Cabas said he will start the same five cagers who inaugurated the action against Akron Garfield. That includes John Sturgeon and Lou Slaby at the forwards, Bill Pauline at the center slot and Butch Platt and Jim Meissner at the guards.

Pauline currently leads the Quakers in scoring with 61 tallies while Meissner is close behind with 59.

This season New Philadelphia has beaten Cambridge 66-57, Canton South 61-59, Uhrichsville 59-48, Newcomerstown 81-39, and Louisville 61-60 while losing to power Ashland 77-66.

The same records show that New Philadelphia has played one common opponent with Salem, that being Louisville. However, the Red and Blacks losing encounter with the Leopards came in a look-see season preview.

New Philadelphia is averaging

65.6 points a game against their foes' 56.6 while Salem's respective offensive and defensive records are 62 and 52.

Game time for the JV contest tomorrow evening is scheduled for 7 p.m.

Yale Quintet Edged By Ohio State 69-67

By The Associated Press
Ohio State has broken the ice, winning its first game of the basketball season just in time to get a lift for the start of the Big Ten title chase Saturday.

The Buckeyes remained a mystery of the warm-up campaign as they lost game after game when they were supposed to be one of the conference's powers.

After dropping seven straight decisions, they edged Yale Wednesday night 69-67 after blowing a 40-26 halftime lead. Yale spurted from the intermission deficit to a 47-47 tie with 11 minutes remaining. But OSU went ahead and managed to hold on.

Frank Howard topped the Bucks with 20 points, 16 in the first half. The defeat was Yale's fifth in eight games.

championship drive at home Saturday against the preliminary leader, Michigan State (7-1). Other games send Michigan (5-3) to Iowa (6-2), Purdue (5-3) to Minnesota (4-2), Illinois (6-1) to Wisconsin (5-3) and Northwestern (5-3) to Indiana (1-6) for an afternoon regionally televised contest.

Lakers Drop 120-109 Decision to Nationals

By The Associated Press
These are trying days for coach George Mikan and his Minneapolis Lakers.

Even though Dick Garmaker scored 33 points in the National Basketball Assn. game Wednesday night Mikan saw his Lakers go down to their third defeat in as many nights. They dropped a 120-109 decision to Syracuse as the Nats posted their eighth straight home court victory.

The triumph moved Syracuse within six games of front running Boston in the Eastern Division.

Dolph Schayes paced the Nats with 21 points as he sank all seven of his free throws to run his string to 45 straight for a club record. The league mark of 55 is held by Boston's Bill Sharman.

Bucks Eke Out 10-7 Win Over Webfoots

Sutherin Kicks Game Winning Field Goal

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Ohio State's Buckeyes, if they want to be fair about it, should chip in to have third-string halfback Don Sutherin's right shoe gold-plated.

The 19-pound senior came off the bench to boot a fourth-period field goal from the 24-yard line yesterday, giving the nation's second-ranked team a squeaky 10-7 verdict over Oregon's 19-point underdogs before 98,202 in the 44th Rose Bowl game.

The shaky Pacific Coast Conference, which has seen its representatives drop 11 of the 12 games with Western Conference foes since the pact was signed in 1947, figured this one was a moral victory.

It came close to being more than that as the Webfoots out-gained Woody Hayes' stalwarts 351 to 294 yards and had 21 first downs to Ohio's 19. It was the most first downs scored against the Bucks this season. The Ohio point total was its lowest of the campaign.

The scoring was shot and sweet. The Bucks took the opening kickoff 79 yards in 13 plays from their first touchdown, quarterback Frank Kremblas sneaking for the counter after throwing a 37-yard "third and 18" pass to sophomore end Jim Houston on the one-yard line. Kremblas converted.

The Ducks marched 80 yards in 10 plays, in a drive which bridged the first-second quarter intermission, with halfback Jim Shanley taking a pitchout from quarterback Jack Crabtree and circling end for five yards. Halfback Charley Touville swept Kremblas out of the scoring path with a bowl-shaking block. Fullback Jack Morris booted his 14th conversion in 19 attempts to tie it.

In the third quarter Morris missed by inches a field goal from the 24-yard line. The Bucks took over on the 20, and in 13 plays, all on the ground, bettered their way to the Webfoot 17.

With only 58 seconds gone in the final period, Sutherin came off the bench, and with Kremblas holding, angled a 24-yard place-kick between the uprights for the winning margin.

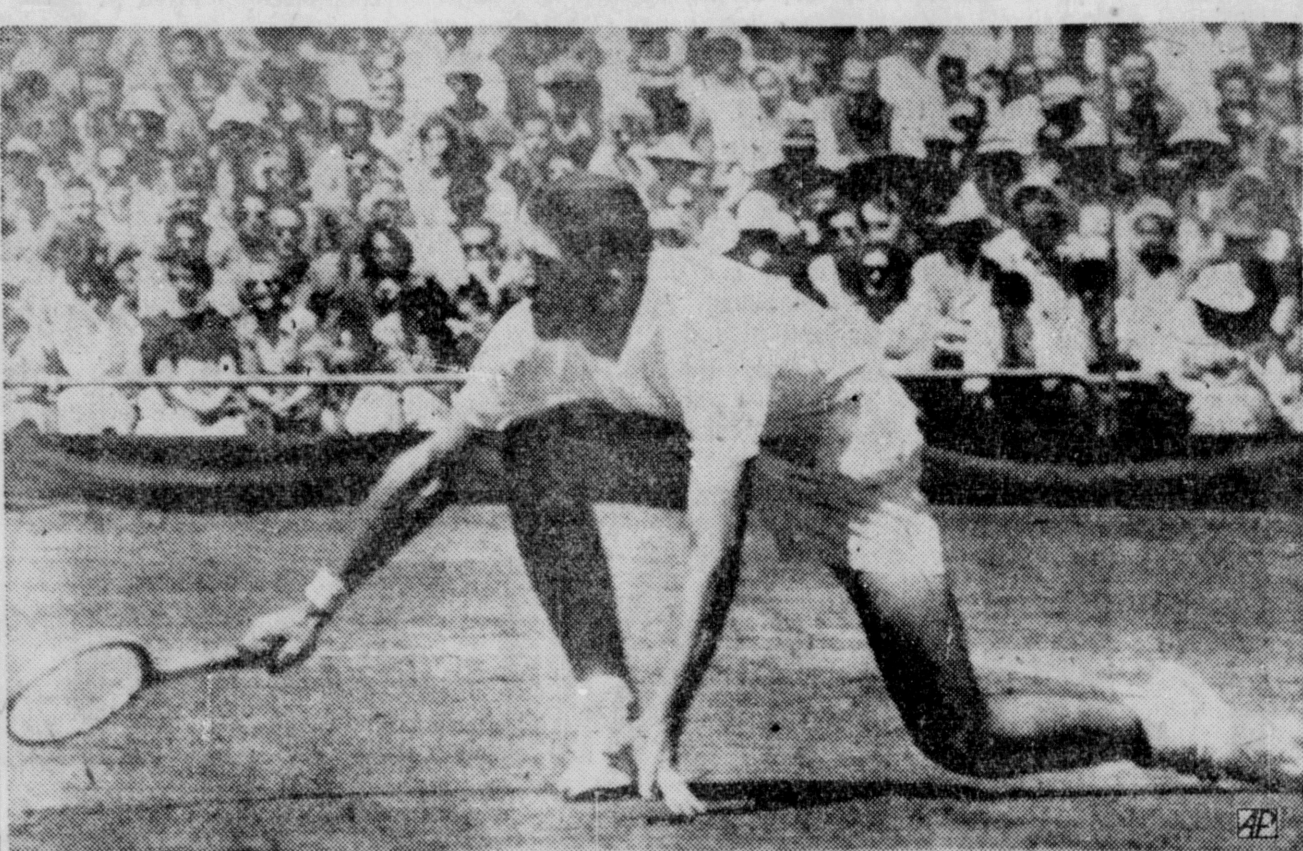

That was the ball game, but there were many deeds of derring-do along the way. For instance, just as Sutherin's field goal won the tilt, senior Joe Canavino—making his first start at right half—saved it.

Joe carried the ball but once, and wound up with a seven-yard loss. But he intercepted both Oregon passes snatched by the Bucks, halting drives which had carried over 30 yards, and picked up one of the two fumbles captured from the Webfoots.

Coach Hayes said "anytime we can get the ball four times on pass interceptions or fumbles, we figure to win." Joe did it almost all by himself.

Oregon's sharpshooting quarterback, Crabtree, was voted the game's outstanding player, and Hayes concurred that the 191-pound senior was as good as any who graced the rugged Big Ten this season. Crabtree completed 10 of 17 passes for 135 yards and picked up 48 yards in 16 rushing tries.

Washington, D. C.—Zora Folley, 190, Chandler, Ariz., out-pointed Garvin Sawyer 188, Cincinnati 10.

BARRY MACKAY of the United States reaches for a low one in the Davis Cup match he lost to Mal Anderson of Australia. The Dayton youngster rallied but lost in the opening challenge round match, 6-3, 7-5, 3-6, 7-9, 6-3.

Navy Posts 20-7 Victory Over Rice

DALLAS (AP)—A Navy squad Coach Eddie Erdelatz calls "the greatest team I've ever been associated with" headed home today with a 20-7 Cotton Bowl victory over Rice.

Tom Forrestal passed and piloted the Middies to a 20-0 lead by the early part of the third period yesterday. Then Navy hung on as Rice surged to a touchdown and powered on a 95-yard drive that reached the Navy 2 as time ran out.

Navy, Eastern champion, now has a victory in the Cotton Bowl, one in the Sugar Bowl and a tie in the Rose Bowl. It has never lost a bowl game.

It was the first bowl loss in five appearances for Rice.

Forrestal passed for 15 yards and ran for 34. Ned Oldham and Harry Hurst chipped in 50 yards and a touchdown each for Navy. Second-stringer Roland Brandquist picked up 36 yards for Navy and recovered the Rice fumble which set up the first Middle touchdown.

Rice's touchdown came on an eight-yard pass play from quarterback Frank Ryan to Ken Williams. Ryan gained 151 yards passing and 69 running. Kig Hill, Rice's All America quarterback, showed little, gaining 13 yards passing and 14 running.

Coliseum Commission To Reopen Negotiations

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Memorial Coliseum Commission will be asked today to reopen negotiations for use of the coliseum by the Los Angeles Dodgers.

County supervisor, Kenneth Hahn, a commission member, says he will ask for reconsideration of the rental plan which was defeated by a 4-4 vote at the commission's meeting last week.

Commission president Tim Smith offered the plan which, in essence, called for the Dodgers to pay an annual rental of $175,000.

When the plan was defeated the Dodgers pursued negotiations with the City of Pasadena for use of the Rose Bowl, and these are pending.

Kansas Tries For 11th Victory In Game With Oklahoma State

By The Associated Press
West Virginia and Kansas—the nation's top-ranked college basketball teams—go to action tonight as the deluge of holiday tournaments dwindles to the vanishing point.

West Virginia No. 1 in the Associated Press poll, is in the Citadel in its first game since shattering North Carolina's 37-10 game winning streak in the Kentucky Invitational Dec. 21.

Kansas, also unbeaten, goes after its 11th in a row by entertaining Oklahoma State.

The Senior Bowl tourney at Mobile, Ala., and the New Hampshire Invitational at Durham, N.H., also wind up tonight. The Citadel plays Spring Hill for the Senior Bowl championship while Harvard tangles with Amherst in the New Hampshire final.

Both The Citadel and Spring Hill won first-round games Wednesday night in the final seconds. A long field goal by Ray Graves with 10 seconds left gave The Citadel a 59-57 triumph over Florida State. A one-handed shot by Jim Carney that went into the net just as the final whistle blew gave Spring Hill a 69-67 victory over Georgia.

Harvard overwhelmed New Hampshire 78-56 and Amherst nipped Springfield 51-45 in the first round games at Durham.

In nontourney games Wednesday night Ohio State ended a seven-game losing streak and chalked up its first victory of the season by nipping Yale 69-67 and North Carolina State, ranked 11th nationally, wallopped Virginia 84-70 in an Atlantic Coast Conference tilt.

Louisville was supposed to base its offensive on the talents of a fleet little All-America Leonard Lyles. Lyles saw little action. Mid-way through the first quarter he had to leave the game after hurting a leg muscle on a kickoff return.

Wita Lyles gone, the Cardinals' 212-pound fullback, Ken Porco, carried the running attack to Drake and his ground-gaining earned him the vote as the outstanding player in the game.

Drake took a 7-0 lead in the first period. Louisville tied the score in the same quarter on a 40-yard pass play from freshman back Pete Bryant to halfback George Cain.

Louisville and Ed Young snagged the first of his two touchdown passes from Dale Orem early in the second quarter. Young also hung on to a 20-yard pass for Louisville's final score in the fourth quarter.

Mississippi Hands Texas 39-7 Defeat

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Quarterback Raymond Brown gave one of the greatest one-man performances in Sugar Bowl history to end Mississippi's frustration in the New Year's Day event.

The Rebels' 39-7 victory over Texas was a tribute to Brown's driving power, masterful passing and deceptive faking. He scored two touchdowns, one on a record-smashing 92-yard run, passed for one and set up another with a pass interception.

The 190-pound senior won the Warren V. Miller trophy as the outstanding player as Mississippi made up for Sugar Bowl losses to Georgia Tech (24-7) in 1953 and Navy (21-0) in 1955.

"Brown played his best game today," Rebel Coach Johnny Vaught said, "but every guy we had in there was ready."

"He played better against us than any other quarterback this season," said Texas Coach Darrell Royal.

Brown gained 157 yards running, completed three passes for 24 yards, intercepted three Texas passes and managed a 34.7 yard punting average although aiming for the sidelines. He had one kick go out on the 7.

Tennessee to Face Hamline University

MACOMB, Ill. (AP)—Tennessee State University's defending NAIA champions face Hamline University tonight in the feature game of the opening round of the Midwest NAIA basketball tourney.

In a second game, host Western Illinois University will shoot for its seventh straight victory, meeting William Jewell College of Liberty, Mo.

Louisville Wins 34-20 Over Drake

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—The University of Louisville stole Drake's thunder in the Sun Bowl Wednesday by taking a 34-20 football victory on an attack built around long and accurate passes.

Drake had been expected to use the aerial route. The Bulldogs did pass frequently but they were able to complete only 10 of 33 and most were for only short gains.

Louisville hit 6 of 10 and three went for touchdowns.

Louisville was supposed to base its offensive on the talents of a fleet little All-America Leonard Lyles. Lyles saw little action. Mid-way through the first quarter he had to leave the game after hurting a leg muscle on a kickoff return.

Wita Lyles gone, the Cardinals' 212-pound fullback, Ken Porco, carried the running attack to Drake and his ground-gaining earned him the vote as the outstanding player in the game.

Drake took a 7-0 lead in the first period. Louisville tied the score in the same quarter on a 40-yard pass play from freshman back Pete Bryant to halfback George Cain.

Louisville and Ed Young snagged the first of his two touchdown passes from Dale Orem early in the second quarter. Young also hung on to a 20-yard pass for Louisville's final score in the fourth quarter.

When the plan was defeated the Dodgers pursued negotiations with the City of Pasadena for use of the Rose Bowl, and these are pending.

Better Bowling

Third of 10 illustrated instructional articles written for NEA Service and The Salem News.

By LEE JOUGLARD
ABC Singles Record-Holder

It goes without saying that pinfall is influenced by the way you start the approach.

The instructor will show you the proper place to stand and you learn by experimenting.

The idea is to start in a manner which will enable you to approach the foul line and deliver the ball at exactly the right angle to the pins.

Once the right place has been determined, take a tip from the golfer who never swings at a ball without first setting his feet properly.

Far too many bowlers grab their balls from the rack and immediately proceed on their merry way to the foul line—and a low score. Be consistent.

Pick up your ball, take your stance in the proper place on the approach and don't rush.

NEXT: Move naturally.

Philadelphia Seeking Navy-Notre Dame Game

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia is trying to make its Municipal Stadium the scene of the Navy-Notre Dame football game as well as the Army-Navy game in 1958.

"We know authorities in Baltimore are trying to keep the game there and we've heard New York is trying to get the game," said city representative Frederic Mann Wednesday. "No decision has been reached but we have been told Navy is extremely interested in everything we have offered."

Mann said an agreement between the Naval Academy and Baltimore for the game to be played in Baltimore alternate years was the one hurdle for Philadelphia to overcome.

Municipal Stadium holds more than 100,000 persons.

Winners of Four Major Bowl Games Prove Figures Don't Lie

By The Associated Press
The winners of the four major football bowl games proved that figures don't lie. Favored Navy, Oklahoma, Mississippi and Ohio State came through with individual star-studded victories.

Navy, the nation's No. 3 team in total offense and ranked fifth in the final Associated Press poll, walloped Rice 20-7 in the Cotton Bowl. Oklahoma seventh in total offense and ranked fourth ripped out a 48-21 decision over Duke in the Orange Bowl.

Mississippi eighth offensively and ranked seventh, buried Texas under a 39-7 score. And Ohio State 11th in total offense with No. 2 ranking edged Oregon 10-7.

The surprise of the four games was not the outcome but the margins of victories. Navy, Oklahoma and Mississippi all were favored but by no such one-sided scores. By contrast, Ohio State was picked to finish in front by three touchdowns. Yet it took a field goal in the final period to settle the issue between the Buckeyes and the Webfoots.

The Ohio State victory gave the Big Ten a 11-1 margin over the Pacific Coast Conference in the series which started in 1947.

Louisville defeated Drake 34-20 in the Sun Bowl, Prairie View A&M and Texas Southern tied 6-6 in the Prairie View Bowl and East Texas State nosed out Mississippi Southern 10-9 in the Tangerine Bowl.

Prairie View put together its six points with a safety in each of the last three periods after Texas Southern had scored in the first quarter.

The four major bowls, played before national television audiences, were sellouts. The largest crowd of 98,202 was in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif. The Sugar Bowl in New Orleans was jammed with 82,000 fans, the Orange Bowl in Miami with 76,318 and the Cotton Bowl at Dallas with 75,504. The addition of 23,000 at the three smaller bowls brought the total turnout to 357,024.

Among the day's stars were Navy's Tom Forrestal, Mississippi's Ray Brown, Oklahoma's Dave Baker and Ohio State's Don Sutherin.

Forrestal, directing an almost flawless attack, passed for 153 yards and chipped in with some fancy running as the Middies picked up 373 yards through the air and on the ground.

Brown ripped off one run of 103 yards (92 yards from line of scrimmage) as he scored two touchdowns, passed for another and set up still another with a pass interception.

Baker hung up an Orange Bowl record when he intercepted a Duke pass and raced 94 yards for the first Oklahoma touchdown.

Sutherin, a substitute halfback, provided the finishing touch to Ohio State's victory with a 17-yard field goal.

Navy completely dominated the Rice Owls but missed several opportunities to score because of penalties and fumbles. A pass interception set up the Southwest Conference eleven's lone touchdown.

While Forrestal was voted the game's outstanding back, he received great help from Ned Oldham and Harry Hurst. Each picked up 50 yards and scored a touchdown. The other came when second-stringer Roland Brandquist plunged the last yard.

A 27-point last quarter settled the issue between Oklahoma and Duke. The Sooners capitalized on six Duke mistakes in racking up their third straight Orange Bowl triumph against an Atlantic Coast Conference foe.

After Baker's long run, the Sooners converted two Duke fumbles, a blocked punt, a wild snap from center and another pass interception into touchdowns.

Brown's was almost the entire show in Mississippi's first Sugar Bowl victory after losses to Georgia Tech in 1953 and Navy in 1955.

Ohio State cored the first time it got the ball with Frank Kremblas making the final yard. Oregon matched it at the end of an 80-yard drive in the second quarter.

The Buckeyes then traveled 80 yards in 14 plays before the attack stalled on the 17. Then came Sutherin's field goal for Ohio State's third Rose Bowl triumph since 1950.

Zora Folley Beats Sawyer In 10-Rounder

WASHINGTON (AP)—Zora Folley, with an easy win over newcomer Garvin Sawyer to his credit, today was talking again about a heavyweight title fight with champion Floyd Patterson.

Folley, 25, of Chandler, Ariz., had experience, record and ranking on his side Wednesday night at the Capitol Arena against Sawyer. The fight showed it.

He was hardly winded in controlling the 10-rounder all the way to win a unanimous decision. Sawyer was dropped in the eighth and ninth rounds.

Arizona cattleman Bill Swift Folley's manager immediately resumed his effort for a Patterson bout.

"If a title fight is set up in Los Angeles, it would draw a record crowd—over 100,000," Swift said, adding he would like an outdoor battle next spring.

None of the officials gave Sawyer a round. Under the 10-point - must system, referee Charley Reynolds had it 100-77, judge Norvel Lee 100-76 and judge Harry Volkman 100-76. The AP favored Folley, 100-77.

Folley weighed 190, Sawyer scaled 188.

The Ducks marched 80 yards in 10 plays, in a drive which bridged the first-second quarter intermission, with halfback Jim Shanley taking a pitchout from quarterback Jack Crabtree and circling end for five yards. Halfback Charley Tourville swept Kremblas out of the scoring path with a bowl-shaking block. Fullback Jack Morris booted his 14th conversion in 19 attempts to tie it.

In the third quarter Morris missed by inches a field goal from the 24-yard line. The Bucks took over on the 20, and in 13 plays, all on the ground, bettered their way to the Webfoot 17.

With only 58 seconds gone in the final period, Sutherin came off the bench, and with Kremblas holding, angled a 24-yard place-kick between the uprights for the winning margin.

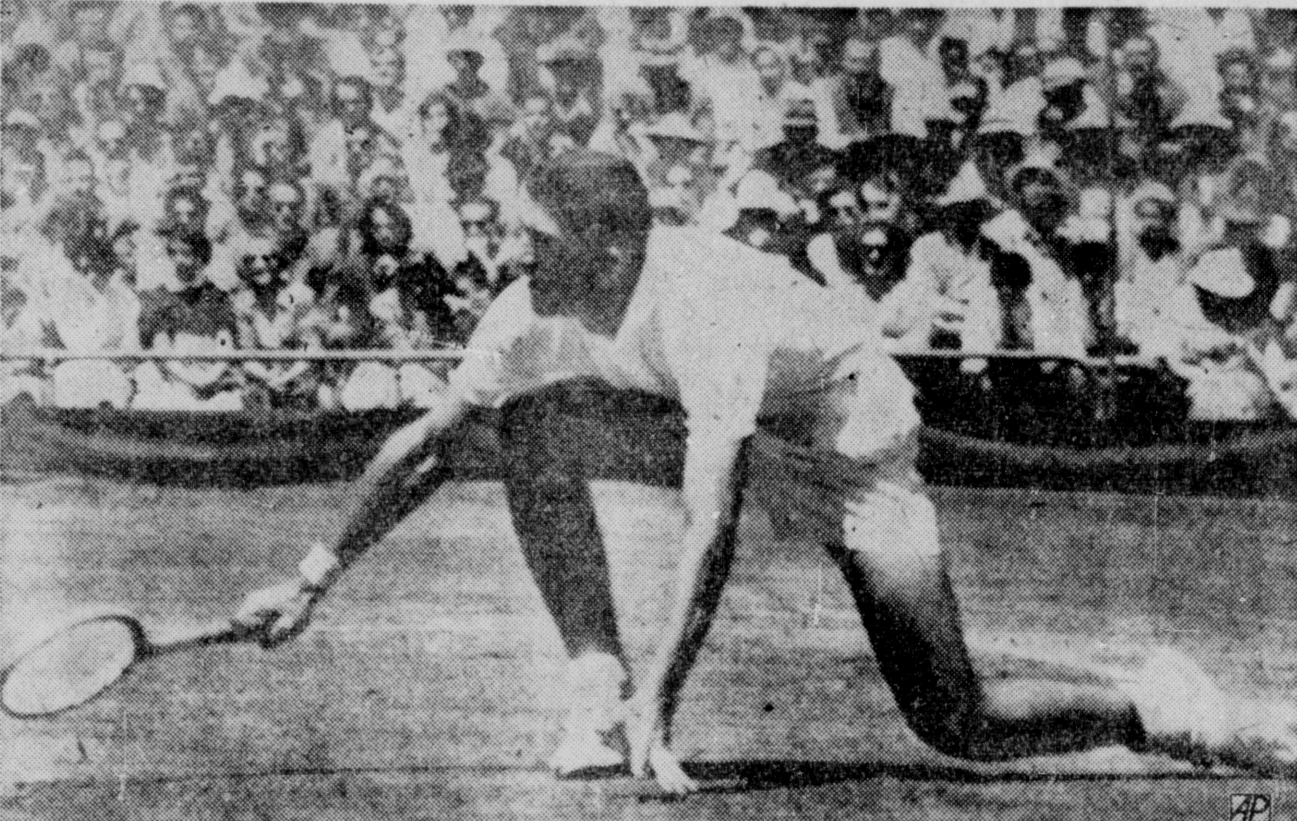

That was the ball game, but there were many deeds of derring-do along the way. For instance, just as Sutherin's field goal won the tilt, senior Joe Canavino—making his first start at right half—saved it.

Joe carried the ball but once, and wound up with a seven-yard loss. But he intercepted both Oregon passes snatched by the Bucks, halting drives which had carried over 30 yards, and picked up one of the two fumbles captured from the Webfoots.

Coach Hayes said "anytime we can get the ball four times on pass interceptions or fumbles, we figure to win." Joe did it almost all by himself.

Oregon's sharpshooting quarterback, Crabtree, was voted the game's outstanding player, and Hayes concurred that the 191-pound senior was as good as any who graced the rugged Big Ten this season. Crabtree completed 10 of 17 passes for 135 yards and picked up 48 yards in 16 rushing tries.

Washington, D. C.—Zora Folley, 190, Chandler, Ariz., out-pointed Garvin Sawyer 188, Cincinnati 10.

BARRY MACKAY of the United States reaches for a low one in the Davis Cup match he lost to Mal Anderson of Australia. The Dayton youngster rallied but lost in the opening challenge round match, 6-3, 7-5, 3-6, 7-9, 6-3.

Navy Posts 20-7 Victory Over Rice

DALLAS (AP)—A Navy squad Coach Eddie Erdelatz calls "the greatest team I've ever been associated with" headed home today with a 20-7 Cotton Bowl victory over Rice.

Tom Forrestal passed and piloted the Middies to a 20-0 lead by the early part of the third period yesterday. Then Navy hung on as Rice surged to a touchdown and powered on a 95-yard drive that reached the Navy 2 as time ran out.

Navy, Eastern champion, now has a victory in the Cotton Bowl, one in the Sugar Bowl and a tie in the Rose Bowl. It has never lost a bowl game.

It was the first bowl loss in five appearances for Rice.

Forrestal passed for 15 yards and ran for 34. Ned Oldham and Harry Hurst chipped in 50 yards and a touchdown each for Navy. Second-stringer Roland Brandquist picked up 36 yards for Navy and recovered the Rice fumble which set up the first Middle touchdown.

Rice's touchdown came on an eight-yard pass play from quarterback Frank Ryan to Ken Williams. Ryan gained 151 yards passing and 69 running. Kig Hill, Rice's All America quarterback, showed little, gaining 13 yards passing and 14 running.

Coliseum Commission To Reopen Negotiations

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Memorial Coliseum Commission will be asked today to reopen negotiations for use of the coliseum by the Los Angeles Dodgers.

County supervisor, Kenneth Hahn, a commission member, says he will ask for reconsideration of the rental plan which was defeated by a 4-4 vote at the commission's meeting last week.

Commission president Tim Smith offered the plan which, in essence, called for the Dodgers to pay an annual rental of $175,000.

When the plan was defeated the Dodgers pursued negotiations with the City of Pasadena for use of the Rose Bowl, and these are pending.

Kansas Tries For 11th Victory In Game With Oklahoma State

By The Associated Press

West Virginia and Kansas—the nation's top-ranked college basketball teams—go to action tonight as the deluge of holiday tournaments dwindles to the vanishing point.

West Virginia No. 1 in the Associated Press poll, is in the 11th in a row by entertaining Canisius in its first game since shattering North Carolina's 37-game winning streak in the Kentucky Invitational Dec. 21.

Kansas, also unbeaten, goes after its 11th in a row by entertaining Oklahoma State.

The Senior Bowl tourney at Mobile, Ala., and the New Hampshire Invitational at Durham, N.H., also wind up tonight. The Citadel plays Spring Hill for the Senior Bowl championship while Harvard tangles with Amherst in the New Hampshire final.

Both The Citadel and Spring Hill won first-round games Wednesday night in the final seconds. A long field goal by Ray Graves with 10 seconds left gave The Citadel a 59-57 triumph over Florida State. A one-handed shot by Jim Carney that went into the net just as the final whistle blew gave Spring Hill a 69-67 victory over Georgia.

Harvard overwhelmed New Hampshire 78-56 and Amherst nipped Springfield 51-45 in the first round games at Durham.

In nontourney games Wednesday night Ohio State ended a seven-game losing streak and chalked up its first victory of the season by nipping Yale 69-67 and North Carolina State, ranked 11th nationally, wallowed Virginia 84-70 in an Atlantic Coast Conference tilt.

Louisville Wins 34-20 Over Drake

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—The University of Louisville stole Drake's thunder in the Sun Bowl Wednesday by taking a 34-20 football victory on an attack built around long and accurate passes.

Drake had been expected to use the aerial route. The Bulldogs did pass frequently but they were able to complete only 10 of 33 and most were for only short gains.

Louisville hit 6 of 10 and three went for touchdowns.

Louisville was supposed to base its offensive on the talents of a fleet little All-America Leonard Lyles. Lyles saw little action. Midway through the first quarter he had to leave the game after hurting a leg muscle on a kickoff return.

Wita Lyles gone, the Cardinals' 212-pound fullback, Ken Porco, carried the running attack to Drake and his ground-gaining earned him the vote as the outstanding player in the game.

Drake took a 7-0 lead in the first period. Louisville tied the score in the same quarter on a 40-yard pass play from freshman back Pete Bryant to halfback George Cain.

Louisville and Ed Young snagged the first of two touchdowns passes from Dale Orem early in the second quarter. Young also hung on to a 20-yard pass for Louisville's final score in the fourth quarter.

Mississippi Hands Texas 39-7 Defeat

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Quarterback Raymond Brown gave one of the greatest one-man performances in Sugar Bowl history to end Mississippi's frustration in the New Year's Day event.

The Rebels' 39-7 victory over Texas was a tribute to Brown's driving power, masterful passing and deceptive faking. He scored two touchdowns, one on a record-smashing 92-yard run, passed for one and set up another with a pass interception.

The 190-pound senior won the Warren F. Miller trophy as the outstanding player as Mississippi made up for Sugar Bowl losses to Georgia Tech (24-7) in 1953 and Navy (21-0) in 1955.

"Brown played his best game today," Rebel Coach Johnny Vaught said, "but every guy we had in there was ready."

"He played better against us than any other quarterback this season," said Texas Coach Darrell Royal.

Brown gained 157 yards running, completed three passes for 24 yards, intercepted three Texas passes and managed a 34.7 yard punting average although aiming for the sidelines. He had one kick go out on the 7.

Tennessee to Face Hamline University

MACOMB, Ill. (AP)—Tennessee State University's defending NAIA champions face Hamline University tonight in the feature game of the opening round of the Midwest NAIA basketball tourney.

In a second game, host Western Illinois University will shoot for its seventh straight victory, meeting William Jewell College of Liberty, Mo.

Winners of Four Major Bowl Games Prove Figures Don't Lie

By The Associated Press

The winners of the four major football bowl games proved that figures don't lie. Favored Navy, Oklahoma, Mississippi and Ohio State came through with individual star-studded victories.

Navy, the nation's No. 3 team in total offense and ranked fifth in the final Associated Press poll wallowed Rice 20-7 in the Cotton Bowl. Oklahoma seventh in total offense and ranked fourth ripped out a 48-21 decision over Duke in the Orange Bowl.

Mississippi eighth offensively and ranked seventh, buried Texas under a 39-7 score. And Ohio State 11th in total offense with No. 2 ranking edged Oregon 10-7.

The surprise of the four games was not the outcome but the margins of victories. Navy, Oklahoma and Mississippi all were favored but by no such one-sided scores. By contrast, Ohio State was

Zora Folley Beats Sawyer In 10-Rounder

WASHINGTON (AP)—Zora Folley, with an easy win over newcomer Garvin Sawyer to his credit, today was talking again about a heavyweight title fight with champion Floyd Patterson.

Folley, 25, of Chandler, Ariz., had experience, record and ranking on his side Wednesday night at the Capitol Arena against Sawyer. The fight showed it.

He was hardly winded in controlling the 10-rounder all the way to a unanimous decision. Sawyer was dropped in the eighth and ninth rounds.

Arizona cattleman Bill Swift Folley's manager immediately resumed his effort for a Patterson bout.

"If a title fight is set up in Los Angeles, it would draw a record crowd—over 100,000," Swift said, adding he would like an outdoor battle next spring.

None of the officials gave Sawyer a round. Under the 10-point - must system, referee Charles Reynolds had it 100-7, judge Norvel Lee 100-76 and judge Harry Volkman 100-76. The AP favored Folley, 100-77.

Folley weighed 190, Sawyer scaled 188.

Canadiens Tally 4-3 Victory Over Bruins

By The Associated Press

Depending upon how you look at the situation, the Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League began 1958 in right style—with a 4-3 victory over the Boston Bruins, and with a brawl to boot.

Chicago also won their first of the new year, a 4-3 triumph over the Detroit Red Wings Wednesday night.

There were 27 penalties in the Canadiens-Bruins game, nine shy of the NHL record. The big outburst came in the second period when both teams and two men in the penalty box poured on the ice to mix it up. It took four policemen 15 minutes to restore order.

Marcel Pronovost's second goal in the third period broke a 2-2 tie.

Ed Litzenberger broke a 10 game scoring famine with two goals to give the Hawks their victory. Detroit's Gordie Howe did likewise but Litzenberger's helped Chicago build a lead the Wings could not combat.

Philadelphia Seeking Navy-Notre Dame Game

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia is trying to make its Municipal Stadium the scene of the Navy-Notre Dame football game as well as the Army-Navy game in 1958.

"We know authorities in Baltimore are trying to keep the game there and we've heard New York is trying to get the game," said city representative Frederic Mann Wednesday. "No decision has been reached but we have been told Navy is extremely interested in everything we have offered."

Mann said an agreement between the Naval Academy and Baltimore for the game to be played in Baltimore alternate years was the one hurdle for Philadelphia to overcome.

Municipal Stadium holds more than 100,000 persons.

Better Bowling

Third of 10 illustrated instructional articles written for NEA Service and The Salem News.

By LEE JOUGLARD
ABC Singles Record-Holder

It goes without saying that pinfall is influenced by the way you start the approach.

The instructor will show you the proper place to stand and you learn by experimenting.

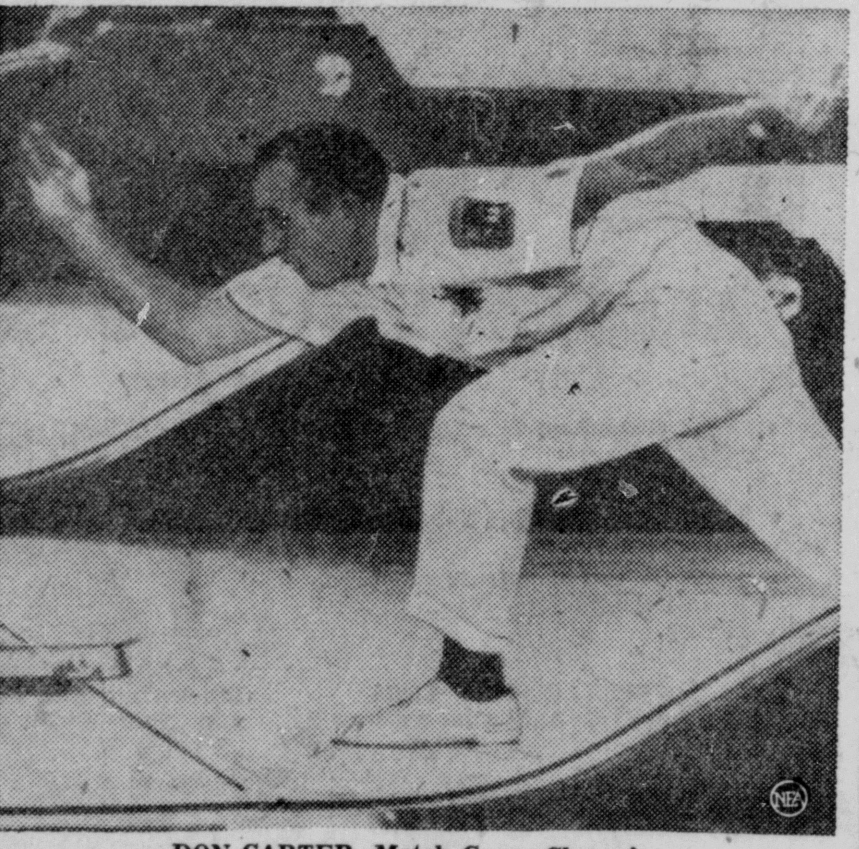

The idea is to start in a manner which will enable you to approach the foul line and deliver the ball at exactly the right angle to the pins.

Once the right place has been determined, take a tip from the golfer who never swings at a ball without first setting his feet properly.

Far too many bowlers grab their balls from the rack and immediately proceed on their merry way to the foul line — and a low score. Be consistent.

Pick up your ball, take your stance in the proper place on the approach and don't rush.

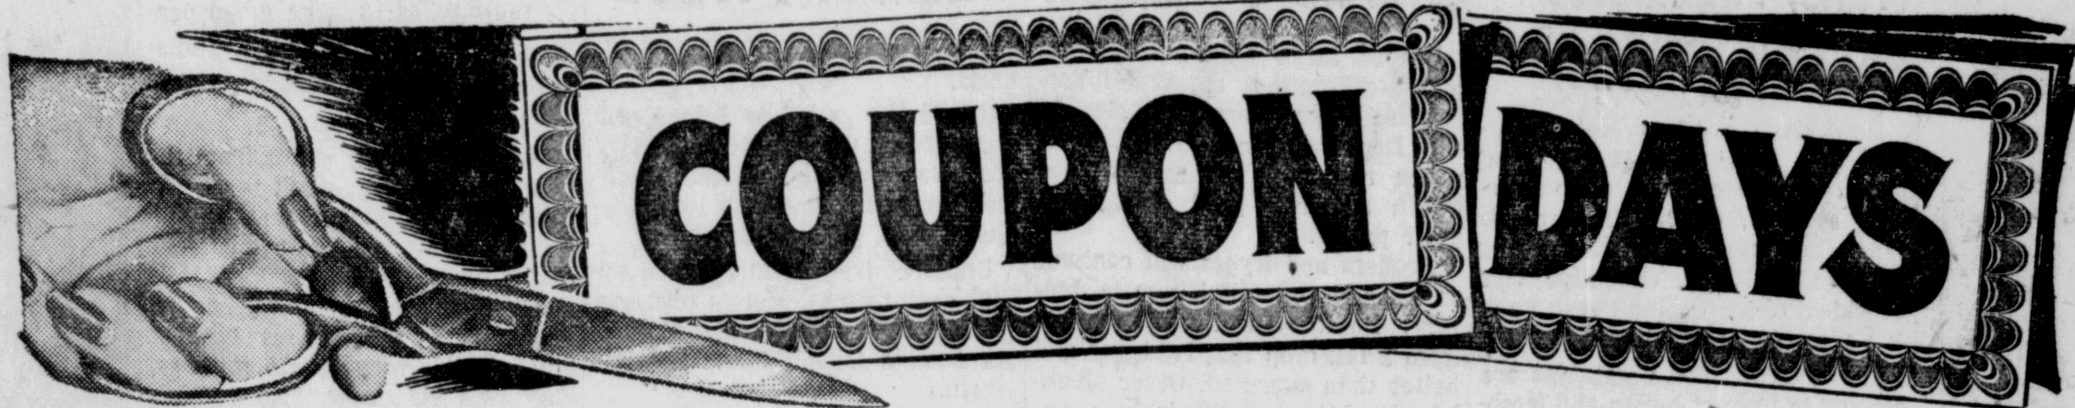

NEXT: Move naturally.

Try Glazed Apples, Pears

Modern scientific Controlled Atmosphere Storage makes it possible to pick apples in October and sell them in late spring or summer, yet you won't be able to tell that they didn't just come off the tree. This is just one of the new techniques used now to lengthen the seasons for fresh fruits.

Apples actually breathe and continue breathing after they are picked. This storage method, by regulating the atmosphere, slows down the breathing to the point where aging (deterioration) is at a virtual standstill. In this way, apples picked in fall are kept in perfect condition until removed from storage months later. That and other advances is why we have more apples in the markets during winter, spring and summer.

Apples should be firm, well shaped and brightly colored (according to the variety), free from blemishes or soft spots. Tart apples are best for pies and cooking. Those that will retain shape well are best for baking. For eating cut of hand, choose crisp, juicy, moderately tart and mildly aromatic ones.

Winter pears are also more plentiful nowadays thanks to increased marketing. Right now, Anjou and Bosc pears are in their prime.

Pears are ready to eat and at their best when they yield readily to pressure at the base of the stem. Don't wait for an Anjou to get yellow because it retains its green color when fully ripe. To ripen, keep pears at room temperature; only when they are ready for eating, refrigerate them.

Glazed Fresh Apples and Pears
Place 1½ cups sugar, 2½ cups water, 3 slices lemon and 2 sticks whole cinnamon in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to boiling point and boil 3 minutes. In the meantime, peel 3 apples and 3 pears, leaving whole with stems attached. Stick 4 whole cloves into each. Drop one half of the fruit at a time into the boiling syrup. Cook 20-25 minutes or until tender, spooning the syrup over the fruit at intervals. Remove from syrup. Repeat, using the remaining pears and apples. Chill and serve with or without whipped cream as dessert.

Fruits, Vegetables Becoming Fresher

How fresh are the fresh vegetables in your market — those bright orange carrots, crisp broccoli, spinach, etc.? Far more so than they used to be, according to Alan T. Rains, executive vice president of the United Fresh Fruit & Vegetable Association.

"Fresh fruits and vegetables are coming to market better and fresher because of continuous improvement in varieties grown, in growing practices and mechanical harvesting," he says.

"Also because of quick refrigeration after harvest, in superior packing and shipping methods speedy transportation to market. More and better packing in consumer units is important, too, and better handling all along the line right into the retail store."

We ourselves know this to be true. With Rains, we traveled thousands of miles throughout some of the great fruit and vegetable growing areas — California, Arizona, Texas, Florida, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. We saw hundreds of thousands of acres and groves under the hot sun.

Brighter colored carrots are more nutritious. Most of their deep orange or orange-red color comes from carotene, a chemical the human body converts to vitamin A, so necessary for good eyesight and normal growth. Pare them thinly. Cook in a small amount of boiling water in covered saucepan until just crisp-tender, 10-15 minutes.

For salads and relish trays, or as for quick-cooked accompaniment for meat, choose small young ones. Use larger, mature ones for soups, stews and pot roast.

Fresh Carrots with Chive-Cheese Sauce

Wash and peel 18 small carrots. Place in saucepan with ½ teaspoon salt and 1 cup chicken broth. Cover and cook 10-15 minutes or until crisp-tender. Drain and reserve liquid. Melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in saucepan. Blend in 1½ tablespoon flour. Pour the reserved stock in a measuring cup and finish filling with milk. Add to the butter and flour. Mix well and cook until desired thickness, stirring constantly. Add 1-3 cup grated sharp American cheese, and 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice. Heat only until cheese melts. Add 1 tablespoon finely chopped fresh chives and cooked whole carrots. Toss lightly and serve. If desired, serve on toast as luncheon or supper dish.

Pineapple Sauce

Ingredients: 2 racks fresh pork spareribs (about 4 pounds), salt, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 small onion (finely chopped), 1-3 cup finely chopped celery, ¼ cup finely chopped green pepper, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 1 can (1 pound and 4 ounces) crushed pineapple, ¼ cup cider vinegar, 2 tablespoons soy sauce, 1 clove garlic (crushed), 1 teaspoon minced fresh ginger or ¼ teaspoon ground ginger, 2 whole cloves, water.

Method: Arrange spareribs in a large shallow roasting pan; sprinkle lightly with salt. Roast, uncovered, in a hot (400 degrees) oven about 1 hour. Drain off fat. Melt butter in a saucepan (1 qt.) and add onion, celery, green pepper; cook gently, stirring often, until wilted. Sprinkle cornstarch over vegetables and stir well to coat. Add crushed pineapple (including syrup in can), vinegar, soy sauce, garlic, ginger, cloves and water. Cook and stir constantly until thickened. Cut spareribs into serving-size portions and arrange in roasting pan. Pour over the pineapple sauce. Return to moderate (350 degrees) oven for 30 minutes or until spareribs are cooked through.

Citrus Outlook—Lower Prices

Record large crops of oranges put citrus with a big C in January food news, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture advance reports. That means good health added to good eating and good prices.

Broilers and fryers will continue as a leading plentiful item in January. Potatoes will be abundant from a fall crop that is bigger and better than expected. Other plentiful in January will include apples, canned and frozen peas, dried

Cooking Hints From Top Growing Areas

As we traveled through the great vegetable and fruit growing areas of the United States, we dined at the hospitable homes of growers frequently. Lots of good food, always lots of vitamin-packed fresh vegetables. Sometimes the meat was cooked with the vegetables, a time and labor-saving method you may want to try.

For pot roast select two or three fresh vegetables such as white or sweet potatoes, carrots, onions, parsnips, celery (cut in two or three-inch pieces) and whole snap beans. Cabbage wedges, turnips and rutabagas may be added to this list also, if desired.

Leave the vegetables whole or cut them into large pieces. Add them to the roasting pot 30-45 minutes before cooking time is up. However, with celery and snap beans, add them only 15-20 minutes before the meat is done. This applies to pot roast cooked on top of the stove as well as that cooked in the oven in a covered roasting pan.

For tender cuts of meat roasted in an open pan, use a slightly different method. The best vegetables in this case are white and sweet potatoes, carrots, onions and parsnips.

They should be peeled and par-boiled 10-15 minutes, then drained. Add to the roasting pan 45-60 minutes before the meat will be done. At intervals, turn the vegetables over in the pan to coat with meat drippings or baste them with drippings.

Here are two other interesting things we learned on our inspection trip:

1. More potatoes than ever before are coming to market under controls on size, grade and maturity imposed under marketing agreements. This means that consumers get better quality potatoes, while lower grades are diverted automatically to starch and livestock feed.

2. To get better spinach, scientists are experimenting with determining and changing the sex of spinach plants. They also have developed spinach of sufficient height so it can be harvested by machine. It is now common practice to wash spinach in a shower of ice water immediately after harvest to cool to shipping temperature.

prunes, dates and almonds and filberts.

Here's the complete list: Fresh citrus fruits, broilers, fryers, dairy products, almonds, filberts, potatoes, canned and frozen peas, apples, dried prunes, dates.

Bowls of fresh fruit make beautiful centerpieces. Here's one suggestion from our spirited California hostess friend, Mrs. Gertrude Austin:

Use a large snowy milk glass fruit bowl and fill it with living color — navel oranges, bright red apples, rich green avocados, purple grapes and nuts with copper tones. Dip into that bowl for dessert, along with cheese and crisp crackers.

Green Peppers

Ingredients: 3 large green peppers, ¼ cup olive oil, 1 tablespoon white wine vinegar, 1 teaspoon salt.

Method: Cut any stems from the peppers so they won't catch on fire. Hold a pepper under cold water and insert a long-handled fork in the top of the wet pepper. Hold close to a gas flame, turning as necessary, until skin is charred black — this may take 5 minutes. Rub skin off under cold running water, using a small sharp knife where necessary. Repeat process for other 2 peppers. Remove seeds from peppers and cut each into about a dozen long strips. Beat olive oil, vinegar and salt together in a jar. Add pepper strips; refrigerate overnight.

HOME DRESSED MEATS ALWAYS

A new year is here and we are starting our 13th year furnishing home-dressed meat to this community. We are going to continue our policy of top quality, home-dressed meats at prices of ordinary meat. We do not sell round steak for four different prices. In fact, most large super markets wrap their meats with price stamped on it. But do you look for the price per pound in small figures? You would be surprised how much a pound you are paying. So make a new year's resolution to know how much you are really paying per pound for the cut you are getting.

Vegetable Plate Appealing

A fresh vegetable plate, carefully prepared, is always popular, hotel and restaurant chefs report. Not only weight-conscious women, but many business men order and enjoy them frequently.

Contrast is a key word; color, flavor, shape and texture of the vegetable is important. The plate should include some protein food, such as eggs or cheese.

For a green vegetable, select broccoli; for contrasting color and texture, herbed zucchini squash. For still more color contrast, plus some protein, bacon stuffed potatoes. Additional protein is supplied by a lemon-cheese sauce for the broccoli. All the vegetables together supply an excellent nutritional package of vitamins, minerals, protein and bulk.

Select broccoli with tender young stalks, dark green or purplish color and compact, unopened bud clusters. The stalks, buds and the few leaves found on the bunch may all be used.

Cook the broccoli in very little water (amount depends on size of pan and amount of vegetable to be cooked). Split stalks lengthwise if they are large, to speed cooking. Leave the lid off the pan during the first part of the cooking. Cook to crisp-tender.

Fresh Broccoli with Mouseline Sauce

Wash a 1-pound bunch fresh broccoli and trim off the tough portion of each stalk. Place in a saucepan with 1 teaspoon salt and 1 - inch boiling water. Bring to boiling point, uncovered, and boil 5 minutes. Cover and continue cooking 15 minutes or until crisp-tender. Drain. Place on serving dish. Serve with Mouseline Sauce.

Mouseline Sauce

Place 3 egg yolks, ¼ cup milk, ¼ cup butter or margarine, 2 teaspoons fresh lemon juice and 1-16 teaspoon ground black pepper in the top part of double boiler. Mix well and cook over hot water (not boiling) until sauce has thickened, stirring constantly. Stir in 1-3 cup grated sharp American cheese. Fold in 1 stiffly beaten egg white. Add salt to taste. Serve over cooked broccoli. Garnish with parsley if desired.

Cheese Sandwiches

Ingredients: 1½ cups grated cheddar cheese (fairly lightly packed), 12 small or medium-sized green olives, 1-3 cup mayonnaise, 1-3 cup coarsely chopped pecans, 12 slices bread, butter, salad greens, membrane-free orange sections, French dressing, salt.

Method: Mix grated cheese with olives (cut in slivers from pits), mayonnaise and pecans. Make 6 sandwiches. Spread on side of each sandwich with about ½ tablespoon butter; toast under broiler or in iron skillet or on grill; turn and spread other sides of sandwiches with same amount of butter; finish grilling. Mix salad greens with orange sections and French dressing, adding salt to taste. Cut each sandwich into 4 squares and serve on plate with salad. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Edmund Ruffin, an agriculturist, is said to have fired the first shot at the siege of Fort Sumpter, first battle of the Civil War. At the war's end, Ruffin killed himself rather than swear allegiance to the Union.

Tempting Hors D'Oeuvres

Once in a while, when you're entertaining, you might enjoy straying from the ubiquitous spreads and dips that nowadays are usually served with crackers, raw vegetables and crisp vegetable chips.

For an occasion when you are ready and willing to do some preparation ahead, small sandwiches dipped in a French toast mixture and fried until golden brown will be something different to offer your guests. The filling for this hors d'oeuvre combines deviled ham with cheese and pickle relish, and the attractive garnishes are pickle 'fans,' pimiento stars and stripes and sliced stuffed olives.

If you can't resist adding a dip to your snack bar, you can hollow out a small red cabbage, fill it with a mustard or spicy fruit sauce and surround it with small hot frankfurters. The franks are dipped into the sauce, so you'll need to have a small container of wooden cocktail picks at hand. The filling for the French-toast hors d'oeuvre also makes an excellent spread served with some of the new potato crackers or with small squares of pumpernickel bread.

French-Toast

Ingredients: 1 can (4½ ounces) deviled ham, 1 cup (¾ pound) grated sharp cheddar cheese, sweet pickle relish, 16 slices thin bread, 2-3 cup evaporated milk, 2 eggs, 2 teaspoons prepared mustard, ½ teaspoon caraway seed, butter or margarine, pickle fans, tiny stars or strips cut from drained canned pimiento, sliced stuffed olives.

Method: Mix the deviled ham and grated cheese with pickle relish to taste. Trim crusts from bread. Spread about 2 tablespoons of the filling on 8 of the slices. Cut into triangles, squares or oblongs. Beat evaporated milk (undiluted), eggs, mustard and caraway seed together in a shallow pan. Dip sandwiches into mixture, turning to coat both sides. Preparation may be done several hours ahead and at this point the

Calorie Counting Can Be Enjoyable

The season of holiday dinners, parties and social snacking will soon be over. Then will come the sudden realization that along with all the fun came a few extra pounds. It will be time again to begin calorie counting. That's why we think you'll welcome these two dressings.

Low Calorie Lemon French Dressing

One tablespoon unflavored gelatin, 1 tablespoon cold water, ¼ cup hot water, 3 tablespoons sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup fresh lemon juice, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon dry mustard, ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion, ¼ teaspoon celery seed.

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add hot water and stir until gelatin dissolves. Add sugar and salt; cool. Combine lemon juice, pepper, dry mustard, Worcestershire sauce, onion, and celery seed; add to gelatin mixture; shake well. Serve at room temperature. May be covered and stored in refrigerator until needed but must remain at room temperature for at least 1 hour before serving so that the gelatin will reify. Note: One tablespoon — 19 calories.

Low Calorie Cooked Dressing

Two tablespoons flour, 2 tablespoons granulated sugar, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 1 teaspoon salt, dash cayenne pepper (optional), 1 cup water, 6 tablespoons fresh lemon juice, slightly beaten.

Combine flour, sugar, mustard, salt, cayenne and water in top of double boiler. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until thickened, about 20 minutes. Remove from heat. Gradually stir fresh lemon juice into the beaten eggs. Then gradually add the egg mixture to the cooked ingredients, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and cool. Store, covered in refrigerator and use as needed. Note: One tablespoon 13½ calories.

Only time — three full weeks over apple and hickory wood smoke, brings out that distinctive smoke-house flavor found in Liber's Prize Brand Bacon. And because Prize Brand Bacon is slowly cured in the old fashioned way there is less moisture — less shrinkage.

When you buy a pound you get a pound.

Buy John Liber's Prize Brand Bacon in thin strips for quick crisping — in slabs for economy and even baked strips — and for cubes to sprinkle thru mild foods for flavor accent.

For convenience — look for the Prize Brand label on the one pound cellophane wrapped package of sliced bacon.

Green Peas

Ingredients: 1½ tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 small onion (cut into thin rings), 1 can (3 ounces) chopped broiled mushrooms, 1 package (10 ounces) frozen green peas, water, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon white pepper.

Method: Melt butter in saucepan; add onion rings and rained mushrooms, reserving mushroom liquid. Cook over low heat, stirring often, until onions are golden. Add frozen peas. Add enough water to mushroom liquid to make ½ cup and pour in with salt and pepper. Bring to a boil separating peas if necessary. Boil gently about 5 minutes or until peas are tender. Serve with pan juices or remove peas and other vegetables with slotted spoon and reduce pan liquid by boiling, then pour small amount left over peas.

Ohio Business Leaders Consider Picture Bright

Optimism Dominates Economic Scene

By The Associated Press
If Ohio's economic picture at the start of the new year 1958 appears drab, with a tone of melancholy, cheer up. Just about everyone believes it will be a temporary thing and grow brighter as the months roll on.

There is some fear, but far more optimism than pessimism. A lot depends upon the vantage point from where the picture is viewed. And in about every spot where conditions cause concern, there's another side of the picture that is full of hope and confidence.

An Ohio Associated Press survey, delving into every part of the state, into business, industry and agriculture, ran into such terms as "setback," "healthy readjustment," "recession," "leveling off," at every hand, but always qualified. Most users of the terms spoke only of the early months of the year and looked forward to things picking up later on.

Unemployment Center of Fears
Center of most of the fears is the unemployment situation. Ohio's jobless probably will increase during the early part of 1958, says James R. Tichenor, administrator of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation (BUC). Unemployment—as determined by continuing claims for unemployment compensation—passed the 100,000 mark in Ohio during December.

Probably the man most in touch with the employment situation in Ohio is William Papier, director of the Division of Research and Statistics in the BUC. In one word, he's optimistic. But he has this to say:

"The melody of the Ohio economic record for 1957 has been, on the whole, most harmonious. Recent discordant notes, however, as the record winds to a slower close, suggest that 1958 may open with 'the blues.' How slow and how melancholy the new record will be is still uncertain.

Little Fear Depression
"Despite the change in melody and slower economic tempo, there's little fear of a depression dirge. Generally anticipated is a new movement, variously called by such tune-titles as 'setback,' 'adjustment,' 'recession,' and so on.

A new all-time high was established in 1956 in average non-farm employment in Ohio—3,174,000. Although the final December figures are not yet in, there's a slight doubt that the 1957 average will show very little change. Such moderate shrinkage as has occurred was concentrated in manufacturing employment, which also reached an all-time high in 1956, averaging 1,370,000. Compensating gains in non-manufacturing industries—notably construction, finance, insurance, and real estate—pulled the over-all nonfarm figure for 1957 close to the 1956 peak."

Work Week to Drop
Papier said the slightly lower level of factory employment was accompanied by a shorter work-week. In 1956 the factory work-week in Ohio averaged 41.0 hours. This average, which normally changes slowly, will drop around three-quarters of an hour for 1957, Papier said.

He said the higher level of unemployment at the end of 1957 had not, at year's end, reached earlier recession peaks. He said in January, 1950, for example, there was an average of nearly 153,000 persons claiming unemployment benefits weekly in Ohio. The comparable figure in April, 1954, was 116,000. At year's end in 1957 the figure was past 100,000, with a further rise probably ahead.

Heels Over Head Celebration

Papier did say there's no way of assessing the overall 1958 prospects with any degree of accuracy. The full impact of defense cutbacks has not yet been felt, he said, and we cannot at this time determine the nature, timing, and volume of defense programs to be expanded.

Calls Outlook Good
From a long-range point of view, the Ohio outlook is especially good, Papier said. With Ohio among the 'growth' states, the optimistic view is furthered by such factors as the state's billion dollar highway construction program, completion of the St. Lawrence Seaway, significant improvements designed to speed-up Ohio River transportation, and growth of the coal-power-aluminum complex in southeastern Ohio.

"The dolorous melody of 'the blues' immediately ahead, in other words, should not be a 'long-playing record,'" Papier concluded. The Associated Press got these reports on current and future conditions around the state:

Cleveland—Steel production is about one-third under the capacity level of a year ago, and may not recover much lost ground in 1958. Automotive production schedules still are at fairly high levels, but will be adjusted closely to future sales. Unemployment compensation claims at the end of 1957 were about 24,000, highest figure since early 1955. Two business indices, however, were clinging to high points. Electric power output closed the year only 2 per cent under the record level of last January, and dollar volume of department store sales was up about 5 per cent over a year ago. The downtown stores reported a slackening pace but suburban branches brought the total up.

Production Slipped Steadily

YOUNGSTOWN—Steel operations, key to prosperity in the Youngstown metropolitan area, slipped steadily throughout the year from an operating rate of 102 per cent in January to 63 per cent in mid-December. General business followed steel's lead, with the exception that there was more Christmas season retail buying than expected. Most drastic steel cutback was Republic Steel Corp.'s shutdown Dec. 7 of its Youngstown open hearth plant, throwing 3,500 men out of work. Truscon Steel Division of Republic went on a four-day work week in November and other plants also had many workers on reduced work weeks. Unemployment is reported highest since coal strike in 1946 forced steel mills to shut down, and more than 7,500 claims for unemployment compensation have been listed. A few more land purchases in the Lordstown area where General Motors intends to build a Chevrolet assembly plant some day kept that hope alive, but there has been no definite word on the project moving ahead.

Aluminum Companies Dwindle

Additionally, in the Youngstown area, observers said the year saw the ranks of aluminum working companies dwindle further from the high of 75 after World War II. Some plants moved away, others have gone out of business. The ones remaining say it is a 'cut-throat business' with profit margin sliced paper-thin by high cost of raw materials and labor.

No Great Recession in Sight

CINCINNATI—The city's business picture is far from being glum as year closed. There is some easement along with the nation's economic trend, after all-time records set in 1956. Observers say the Queen City and its nearby communities are in an enviable position because of many diversified industries. No great recession in sight for 1958. Banks clearing, a good business barometer, continue to hit new highs. Volume of department stores shows some recession, but Christmas buying zoomed in the final weeks. TOLEDO—Employment off slightly—10,000 in November, 1957 compared with 6,700 in November, 1956 with upward trend to continue for several months. Building permits down slightly new and used car sales off slightly. On credit side of picture is expansion under way or planned by many industries in the Toledo area.

Business Leaders Optimistic

COLUMBUS—Business leaders generally optimistic about new year. Retail volume up an estimated 1 per cent from record 1956. Manufacturing off in last quarter and unemployment on rise led by North American Aviation Inc., cutbacks to meet defense economies. Overall business-industrial picture for 1957 very good. Housebuilding off, but still high. New year may be "as good" after slow start, is consensus. Banking leaders, Presidents Lealand A. Stoner of Ohio National Bank, John E. Stevenson of Huntington National and John J. McCoy of City National and Trust Co., say present leveling-off period just "healthy adjustment," that Columbus has little to worry about due to diverse industries, educational institutions, stabilizing government payrolls, and enterprising commercial establishments.

Signs of Improvement

DAYTON—This area's business climate, observers say, has been somewhat cloudy throughout 1957, but there are signs of improvement as new year begins and some see brighter prospects for 1958. Losses in manufacturing employment have been instrumental in bringing the area's economy to lower level than that enjoyed in recent years. Monthly average of workers in Dayton area factories through November of 1957 was 94,768 compared to 102,227 year ago. While further layoffs are scheduled in some lines, still others are recalling a few workers or say no further cuts planned.

SPRINGFIELD—Employment situation for past six months not too encouraging. New unemployment cases up about 30 per cent from last year-end. Lack of sufficient new orders to maintain current rates of production and shipments is basic problem for manufacturers.

MARIETTA—While unemployment in area is up from 220 a year ago to 539 in December, total outlook in booming mid-Ohio aluminum plants continues bright. Retail sales have been well above those from 1956 in Washington County. Big aluminum plants being built by Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. and the Ormet Corp., at Oma, 50 miles up the Ohio River from Marietta, nearing completion and expected to add Marietta area people to working force. Purchase of thousands of acres of Ohio Valley farm lands in county by Pennsylvania Railroad and Hanna Co. for resale to in-area changing from agriculture to trial boom may continue in an area changing from agricultural to industrial.

Report Decreasing Employment

EAST LIVERPOOL—Area pottery plants and steel producing and fabricating firms showed decreasing employment and payrolls as 1957 ended and a spokesman for the ceramics industry said "there is little hope for an early upturn in 1958." There were 11,000 employment compensation claims in 1956 and 19,876 during 1957. But sales tax receipts indicated a 2.7 per cent gain for the past 11 months compared to previous period although they were down by 10.7 per cent in November as compared to November of 1956. The Crucible Steel Co., whose nearby Midland (Pa.) plant employs more than 6,000 at full production, reports employment down 6 per cent in 1957 compared to 1956. But payrolls fell off only 3.4 per cent to about $36,400,000 for 1957. More than a third of the plant's employees live in the East Liverpool area.

WARREN—Merchants report sales from Jan. 1, 1957, to Dec. 1, 1957, down 5 to 10 per cent. But that was better than in 1955 if not as good as in 1956, a banner year. They are watching their inventories closely and are not too optimistic for the first six months in 1958. Minhours worked in Warren and Tru bull County manufacturing plants during first 10 months of year are about two million less than same period in 1956. However, spreading the work has kept unemployment at a minimum. While unemployment noticeable here, it has not reached alarming proportions. Industrialists believe present decline will be short lived and outlook for 1958 is good, probably to be recorded as a year of consolidation, spilling over into 1959.

Ship Collision Victim

Receives $70,000

CLEVELAND—Miss Theresa Buccilli, who sued operators of the Italian liner Andrea Doria and the Swedish steamer Stockholm for $250,000 damages, received a $70,000 out-of-court settlement.

Miss Buccilli's attorney said Wednesday his client suffered severe mental shock and lost all her personal belongings in the collision of the two ships July 25, 1956. Miss Buccilli lives with her uncle, John Buccilli, in suburban Euclid.
